MP in call to health trust over food plan

BOSSES at Cannock Chase Hospital have been urged not to close its kitchens ahead of a potential vote later this month.

The Mid Staffs Foundation Trust is considering closing the hospital's catering department and bringing over cold meals from Stafford Hospital, before reheating them on site.

It is one of several options under consideration as the trust strives to make savings of six per cent.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley said he would oppose the potential closure, labelling the plan 'voodoo economics'.

Nutrition

He added: "Local people need a decent menu when they come into hospital as good nutrition is part of the healing process."

"They have already taken soup and fruit juice off the menu - now they want to ship food over from Stafford to save money."

"It is voodoo economics and would mean worse care for poorly people."

A vote is likely to be taken at one of the trust's next board meetings, either on May 31 or June 29.

Lyn Hill-Tout, chief executive at Mid Staffordshire NHS Trust, said no decision had yet been made, adding: "We are considering a number of options."

Ex-skipper takes helm

FORMER Chasetown captain Craig Harris has been named as the Scholars boss.

Harris, who played 94 times for Chasetown, skippered the side during their first historic FA Cup run in 2005.

He was named as successor to Chris Brindley and left Tipton Town to rejoin the club, which has just been relegated from the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division.

Tributes are paid to journalist after cancer death

Neil Aitchison

A FORMER journalist and award-winning communications director has died, aged 44, after a six-month battle with skin cancer.

Father-of-two Neil Aitchison died on Sunday (May 13) at Wolverhampton's New Cross Hospital where he had been treated for malignant melanoma since he was diagnosed with the terminal stage of the disease in November last year.

Neil spent five weeks in the hospital's Deansley Ward last year after being told he could be paralysed and was unable to move. Just three weeks later, he walked unaided down the aisle at St Mark's Church, Great Wyrley to marry Linda, his partner of 16 years.

Neil, of Cheslyn Hay, worked as the new media director at Cannock's Passionate Media, recently renamed 'The Marketing Room', since August 2008, when he joined from Warwick University, where he had been online editor. As a journalist, Neil worked at BBC Midlands Today converting the TV news programme to online video content. He had also been a broadcast journalist with BBC West Midlands Online and Radio WM and as a copytaster and reporter at the Birmingham Post.

Degree

He freelanced for several BBC local radio stations and is a former communications officer at the University of Kent at Canterbury, where he'd completed a degree in politics and government.

Neil's early years in journalism were spent as editor of the Uttoxeter Advertiser, before moving on to cover health for the Worcester Evening News, where he met Linda, the then news editor at the Leicester Mercury.

He also worked as communications manager at Mid Staffordshire NHS Trust and editor of the Forensic Science Service's magazine, Clued-Up - a position that saw him scoop a Communicators in Business Award of Excellence in 2004.

Neil leaves Linda and their twin daughters, Emily and Melissa, aged 13.

Linda said: "The past few months brought the sorts of challenges that nobody should face. Neil's nurses and doctors told him how much respect and admiration they had for him because of the way he met those challenges head on, got himself moving and proved their predictions wrong."

"As a colleague Neil was patient, diligent and hardworking."

"As a husband and father he was the absolute best and we are blessed to have had his love in our lives. Marrying Neil after all these years gave us both such joy."

Yuletide fears as Lotto is scrapped

A TOWN centre lottery has been axed, putting Cannock's Christmas celebrations in jeopardy.

The Lotto was scrapped after it failed to attract enough support from traders.

Festive celebrations were being funded by the Lottery, which had a cashpot split 50-50 between the winner and town centre projects.

Natal Chapman, who runs Cannock Shopping Centre and oversees the Lotto scheme, said its demise had put the annual celebrations at risk.

Organisers say they must now try to find alternative ways of funding the £3,000.

Mrs Chapman said: "We just didn't have enough support. I think a lot of people did not know the reasons behind it."

Traders

"Without people supporting it, it was just decided it was no longer viable."

She added: "We ultimately need to find a new form of funding, we need to get the traders on board and work something out."

"We have thought about a raffle, but again it still needs everyone's support."

The struggling lottery affected last year's celebrations with Britain's Got Talent star Jean Martinyn offering to perform and switch on the lights for free.

Spring fair at museum

A SPRING fair is being held at Erasmus Darwin House in Lichfield this weekend.

It takes place from 10am to 4pm on Saturday and Sunday and entry is free.

Stalls will sell books, jewellery, herbs and knitwear, with refreshments in the Georgian Tearoom.

Manager Alison Wallis said: "The museum is a wonderful venue to hold an event like this."

EXCITEMENT OVER COINS DISCOVERY

by Marion Brennan

A HEDNESFORD man has unearthed historic Roman coins more than 2,000 years old. Experts have described it as a significant find.

The silver coins were discovered by metal detecting enthusiast, father-of-three Scott Heeley.

At least one of 242 coins bears the head of Roman politician and military general Mark Antony, the loyal friend of Julius Caesar.

Experts say it is the most exciting discovery in the area since the Staffordshire Hoard - a collection of the largest haul of Anglo-Saxon gold ever found.

Experts at the British Museum have compiled a report on Mr Heeley's find while an independent valuation committee will identify how much they are worth.

Ian Richardson, the museum's treasure registrar, confirmed the coins were from the first and second centuries.

He said: "We get quite a few coin hoards every year but this is quite a good one."

"There was a really large hoard of 52,000 coins found in Somerset in 2010 but they were bronze, so are silver and are from an earlier period. In the coin world, this is a good find."

A close-up of the Roman coins

Mr Richardson said the local museum would be given a chance to acquire the coins and that if they did not take up the offer, an inquiry would be held to decide whether the hoard could be categorised as treasure.

Any financial reward will be split between 50-year-old Mr Heeley and the owner of the field in Stoke-on-Trent that the coins were found in.

Network Rail maintenance worker Mr Heeley, of Hednesford, said: "They looked more like chocolate buttons at first because of the amount of muck around them. I was shell-shocked when I realised what I'd got."

"What really thrills me is that I've unearthed a piece of history."

Mr Heeley made his historic discovery while on a dig with the Birmingham-based Timeline Detection group.

After several hours of looking, the 50-year-old's detector gave a strong signal and he stopped to dig. A silver coin came up with the first shovelful and his detector started buzzing madly.

He said: "A friend Dean said 'Oh my god, you've hit the jackpot'. Every handful of soil which was coming out contained silver coins. I was shaking with delight."

Fragments

Back-up was summoned and after four hours of digging, the group removed 242 coins and some fragments. Mr Heeley's discovery came after only two years after taking up the hobby.

The Staffordshire Hoard was discovered in a field on land between Brownhills and Burntwood in 2009 by metal detector Terry Herbert. During a recent tour of America, the hoard was hailed as a "global phenomenon" after more than 50,000 visitors flocked to see it.

The Hoard hit the headlines last month when it emerged travellers want to set up camp in a field bordering the site of the discovery.

GERMAN ELECTRIC HEATING IS THE ANSWER

This incredible heating could be the answer to help beat the ever increasing energy costs and amazingly, it is not, gas or oil, or solid fuel - but electric! It's clean, Simple to install, Powerful, Economical, and no more servicing costs - EVER! All you need is a normal electricity supply and a plug socket and NO standard tariff like economy seven.

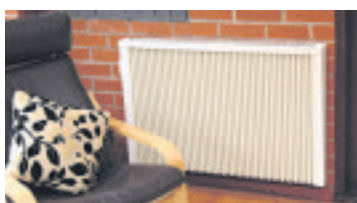

In Germany, Austria, Eastern Europe and even America, more and more people are choosing to heat their homes and offices with this very special form of electric heating in preference to gas, oil, LPG or any other form of conventional central heating or economy seven.

Here in the Midlands more and more of our customers are making that same decision and when you see this incredible heating for yourself, you could be next!

The heating looks just like a conventional radiator, but STOP! It is very, very different!

Put simply, the clunky central heating boiler needing constant servicing and replacement parts isn't the only choice any more!

Now you can choose to heat your homes, offices, extensions or conservatories with this incredible German heating which provides individual control over every single room without the need for a central control or space to site a boiler. Now the boiler space can also become a storage area!

Installation takes minutes and running is completely clean, there is no danger of leakage, no holes through walls, no floorboards up and no tradesmen trundling around the house wielding pipe cutters, hammers, wrenches and dirty work-boots. This incredible heating, simply plugs in and that's it! Job Done! You can even do just one room or the whole house!

Carrying torch on a day to remember

IT will be a day to remember for the people chosen to carry the Olympic torch through South Staffordshire.

Among the chosen few is 18-year-old Nicole Murray, from Stafford. She will be holding the flame aloft as it travels through Great Wyrley.

"It's still hard to take in that I'm going to be part of the Olympics," she said.

Inspirational Nicole is a dedicated member of a number of voluntary groups that help make things better for looked-after children and young people. She has been in the care of Staffordshire County Council since an early age and is a true champion for other young people.

"Life hasn't always been easy and being in care is hard for kids like me, but I'm just pleased that I've been able to give something back."

Nicole, who has helped the Children in Care Council campaign to raise pocket money for all young people who are looked-after in Staffordshire, is also training to be a hairdresser.

Joining Nicole will be 56-year-old Ann Andrews from Stafford. Ann is a founder member of Gnosall Community 1st Responders on top of her full-time job at St Lawrence Primary School in Gnosall.

A member of St John Ambulance and Royal Life Saving Society, Ann also started a fundraising campaign in the 1980s to build a school swimming pool at St Lawrence's, where she runs swimming and life-saving classes.

The youngest torchbearer will be 12-year-old Sam Wilding from Cannock. He is part of the West Bromwich Albion Football Academy and is also a successful cross country runner.

Caitlen Moon, aged 21, from Stafford, was born with Eustation Tube Dysfunction, meaning that by the age of 18 she had had five operations, three pairs of grommets and a T-Tube in her ears.

None of these was successful and she was then given two hearing aids. Despite this, Caitlen was elected a member of the Youth Parliament for South Staffordshire in 2008.

She managed to overcome her hearing problems to get A-levels in music, English literature and language and French.

She is now at university studying French and English literature.

Carnival atmosphere as flame to pass through

A map of the flames' route through South Staffordshire

A CARNIVAL atmosphere will engulf South Staffordshire when the Olympic flame arrives on June 30 at 11.15am

Great Wyrley's annual carnival has been organised to coincide with the event, while five commemorative trees will be planted and a celebratory bench and plaque will also be unveiled.

The new trees, each of which will represent the colours of the Olympic rings, will be planted at Churchbridge, near Great Wyrley, where the torch will first enter the district before moving on to Newtown.

The commemorative plaque, which will feature the Olympic rings and torch and be made of bricks, will also be erected in this area, while the bench will be along the main A34.

The carnival alone usually attracts around 5,000 people so this year's event is likely to bring in a record-breaking crowd.

As well as seeing the world's most-famous flame pass by, people will be able to enjoy fairground rides, marching bands, a dog display team, dancers, toy soldiers and more.

Pubs in the area will open early, offering breakfast to early-bird torch relay spectators.

Councillor Kath Perry said: "A total of 19 carnival floats will take part in a procession on the day alongside the torchbearers. The carnival committee and the parish council Olympic working groups have been working closely on the day, making sure it will be one to remember.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity and we want to make sure it will be a day like no other."

A total of 13 torchbearers will hold the flame in South Staffordshire on the day, taking it along the A34 through Great Wyrley and then on to Newtown.

In Newtown, villagers will be hosting their own Olympic Games at the new £1.3 million sports and community centre in Long Lane. Children will be able to take part in a host of sporting challenges, cheered on by their family and friends.

Historic

Essington Councillor David Cliff said it had taken two years of lobbying the London Organising Committee of the Olympic Games to get the torch in the area.

"This is a historic occasion and one I am sure will never be repeated again in Newtown's history," he said. "We have been organising a whole host of events to celebrate the day. It will be a combined community effort."

Free buses are also being provided to transport people from Essington to Newtown. Local groups taking part in the day include Essington parish council, St John's School, the 1st Essington Scouts and Guides, Brownshore Playgroup, Mason's pub, the Lakes Nursing Home, Waters Edge Care Home, Upper Sneyd Road Residents' Association, Essington Job Club, Midlands Heart Housing Association and AFC Essington. South Staffordshire College has also been getting into the spirit of things by joining the Get Set Network.

This is a special community of schools and colleges using the London 2012 Games to inspire learners of all ages and abilities to get involved in projects and activities. Students have been taking part in a number of activities during the run-up to the relay, including the opportunity to obtain a stewarding qualification which allows them to apply to be a marshal on the big day.

Trudie McGuinness, director of learner services at South Staffordshire College, is confident both students and tutors will benefit from the Get Set Scheme.

She said: "Built around the Olympic and Paralympics Values, the projects will encourage young people to play an active part in their own learning, and to develop leadership skills and to challenge themselves to try new things."

Evidence of otters in brook at college

SOUTH Staffordshire College staff think otters may be living in the grounds of the Rodbaston campus – and have discovered evidence of the mammals in a brook.

Workforce development leader Derek Crawley said: "In England the otter was on the brink of extinction between the 1950s and 70s because of persecution and pesticides washing into waterways.

"The resurgence of the otter, which is top of the food chain in river environments, is an indicator that English rivers are at their healthiest for more than 20 years, according to the Environment Agency.

"To have otters living on the Rodbaston campus is a testament to the Fisheries and Countryside Management students of their management work in these areas.

"Otters could be using the estate brook as a potential breeding location because it's quiet and less likely to flood," he added.

Countryside management students have been setting up cameras to record the movements of the otters for their studies.

Medium to sign books

TV spiritualist Alison Ward is paying a visit to Rugeley this weekend. She will be popping in at the Holistic Hut, in Albion Street, from 10am on Saturday, May 19.

Alison, who has featured on Sky TV's Moore Show with Kevin Moore, will be signing copies of her book Awarded by Angels.

Soul guidance sessions will also be available at a reduced price of £30.

Sarah Cornwall, who opened the business just two months ago, said: "This is so exciting that she has chosen my little shop to visit."

Pub shuts in village yet again

A 250-year-old village pub near Rugeley is to close for the second time in six months.

The Swan with Two Necks in London, first opened as an inn in 1755. It was taken over last year by local businessman Neil Morten. But it is losing £2,000 a week, and he says he cannot afford to keep it open any longer.

The pub closed after a row last year between tied owners Punch Taverns and then licensee Anne Walters over the terms of the lease. It was closed for 50 years following a campaign by villagers, backed by Camra, to keep it open.

Mr Morten blamed the high cost of buying beer and other drinks from Punch Taverns, combined with rent, rates, tax and staff which meant the pub was not sustainable as a business.

He said: "This is a great village, but there just aren't enough locals to support the village pub."

"Like a gambler in a casino, you just keep throwing more money in, hoping to see a return, but it never happens."

"Eventually the well runs dry. In the end, the maths just doesn't work."

Canada trip for Lorraine

A MEMBER of Rugeley Rotary Club member has been selected to travel to Canada to share her ideas.

Lorraine Boothman been chosen to lead a team of young professionals to the country as part of Rotary International's Group Study Exchange programme.

The team will tour the Saskatchewan and Manitoba Provinces, staying with families.

A team from Canada visited this region last October.

Lorraine said: "It is a privilege to be going on this trip and I am getting really excited."

SNAP sum raised

A ZUMBATHON in Hednesford raised more than £700 for a Cannock charity. Instructor Francesa D'Angelo put the enthusiasts through their paces at the Old Soldiers' Club in Anglesey Street on April 12. A sum of £712 was collected for the Special Needs Adventure Playground in Pye Green Road.

Patients give backing to free home service

Clinical director Shakeel Puri visits Peter Hughes at home

PATIENTS are backing a free home visits service offered by a leading opticians. Chase Eyecare, which has a branch in Cannock and Hednesford, offers free home visits to people with mobility problems.

The service is not just available to the elderly but to anyone requiring a home visit on account of a physical or mental disability. It is proving to be a very popular service.

Peter Hughes, aged 79, from Hednesford, was born with polio and spent many years on crutches. He is now confined to a wheelchair. Mr Hughes, who once held a top job in the probation service, first came into contact with Chase Eyecare when he temporarily lost vision in his right eye.

The practice also offers free emergency appointments and Shakeel Puri, clinical director at Chase Eyecare, arranged for Mr Hughes to travel by ambulance to hospital where he received treatment.

Mr Hughes now receives a visit regularly from Mr Puri and his team. Mr Hughes said: "The home visit service is vital for me. It is very difficult for me to get out now so to receive eye care examinations in the comfort of my own home is just marvellous.

"Chase Eyecare takes care of everything from at home eye exams and dispensing of glasses to a comprehensive free aftercare service."

Mr Puri said: "There are many people eligible for a free home visit and we are one of a very small number of opticians providing this vital service."

Extra jobs in the pipeline as cemetery set to be built

A NEW £1.4 million private cemetery is being built in Burntwood - with more than 60 per cent of plots already snapped up weeks before its official opening.

The cemetery, which will create five jobs with the promise of more in the future, has been created in response to growing pressure for burial sites across the region.

Walsall Burial Park is being built on land off the A5195 Burntwood Bypass.

It will serve Walsall, Cannock and Lichfield and will have 5,500 plots, 64 per cent of which have already been bought.

It follows planning permission for a new 8,000-space cemetery in Great Wyrley.

Springhill Cemetery Group, which is behind Walsall Burial Park, is also already creating a 30,000 space burial ground off Walsall Road, in Lichfield.

Investors

Walsall Burial Park will work by allowing investors to buy plots at the site at a highly discounted rate.

Funds raised are then used to finance the rest of the project, before the plots are sold back to the public providing investors with a return on their investment.

by Catherine Dalton

The plots can also be bought by members of the public.

Bosses at Springhill Cemetery Group said the development was months ahead of schedule.

Kamran Saleem, sales and administration manager, said: "Our sites will be marketed for a fair price per plot and will mostly undercut the market in the local area, helping families at their time of need."

The first burial is set to take place in July.

The burial park will boast a large Muslim designated section, plots of other religious denominations and children and infant plots.

Five jobs have been created with more expected in the future.

A building including a reception area, public facilities and staff amenities is to be added.

Organist in Jubilee date with WI singers

BRITAIN'S Got Talent star Jean Martyn has been rehearsing with the Shreshill WI Choir ahead of a Queen's Jubilee performance.

Lichfield-born Jean, a former Cannock school music teacher, was a finalist in the TV talent show last year. The 60-year-old will play with the choir when they perform at the Diamond Jubilee concert in Shreshill on June 2.

Jean said: "The choir sound really good. I'm looking forward to performing with them next month."

Choir conductor George Stuart said: "It's great that Jean has given up her spare time to come along to play with us."

Dennis Pryce, aged 90, of Wolverhampton at Chasewater with driver Bob Duffill

Dennis lets off steam for 90th

A FORMER railway worker took a train ride down memory lane to mark his 90th birthday.

Dennis Pryce, also known as Marvyn, was treated to a celebratory trip on the Chasewater Railway by his family last Saturday (May 12). He said the experience, in which he drove the train, brought back happy memories.

Mr Pryce, a father-of-four Father-of-four from Wolverhampton, worked on the trains for seven years, including during the war when he transported cargo and passengers on the Great Western Railway.

Marvellous

"It was absolutely marvellous," said the grandfather-of-five.

"When I was about 17 I started working on the Great Western Railway and when war broke out I was already in a reserved occupation so I carried on working on the railway."

"I was a railway fireman and I used to travel all across the country."

Dennis, who also worked at Guy Motor and Goodyear, celebrated his birthday with a party at the Emerald Club, in Wolverhampton.

Instructor sets up ukulele group

FANS of the ukulele are being invited to give the instrument a go.

Teacher Joanna Stevenson is on the hunt for people wanting to learn the instrument and a group is being formed for people in the Cannock and Rugeley areas.

THE BEST
RHODES

A HEADLINE this week begged the Prime Minister: "Don't turn your back on the old." Sound advice. It also applies to wounded animals and anyone carrying a knife.

□□□□□□□□

AGE is unkind to beauty and if Frances Barber feels she needs a facelift, so be it. But I hope the 54-year-old actress opts for the subtle sort that makes one look slightly surprised, rather than the radical option which leaves you unable to smile without lifting your eyebrows.

□□□□□□□□

IT NOW turns out that the "Underpants Bomber" in Yemen was actually a CIA agent who posed as a volunteer for a suicide mission. So was there a plot at all? Nothing could prevent thousands of IRA bombings during the 30 years of The Troubles. Yet Al Qaeda plots are foiled time after time. Do you ever feel you are not being told the whole truth?

□□□□□□□□

THE nation is horrified at the antics of Cambridge students filmed this week getting drunk, snogging and throwing up in flowerbeds. Thank goodness nothing like that ever happened when we were young.

AN accountancy firm reckons that one in four Brits may be on the wrong PAYE tax code. I have just received three codes in the space of 48 hours. I feel sure one of them must be right.

ED Miliband and Ed Balls proclaim Labour's "programme for growth and jobs" as the sensible, caring alternative to the Tory austerity package. Now, France has elected Francois Hollande, a new socialist president committed to precisely the policies that Miliband and Balls want. If France prospers, Miliband and Balls will be vindicated. If France stumbles into the mire, David Cameron can point across the Channel and say: "Told you so." We should be most grateful to our French neighbours for voting to be guinea pigs in this fascinating experiment.

MEANWHILE, I understand the defeated President Sarkozy may join the Tea Party and become a Teakozy.

A NEW sailing season dawns and a chandlery mail-order catalogue arrives. The first three pages are devoted to falling overboard, catching fire and blowing yourself up with bottled gas. What a great pastime.

A CANADIAN writer, Leah McLaren, announces in The Spectator that she is in love with an English bloke. Inevitably, this has stirred memories of her famous column some years ago which declared: "For a North American male, romancing English girls is like shooting fish in a barrel." Actually, Leah, it's not just North American males. It's Spanish waiters, Greek barmen, Gambian tour guides, Masai warriors and Swiss ski instructors. Some English girls seem to have been put on this planet purely to have sex with foreigners who would otherwise never get lucky.

Combine nature with a love of food

FOOD and beer lovers can buy discounted tickets in advance for a charity's popular festival.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's popular Food and Beer Festival takes place from 11am to 11pm on Saturday, June 16. Tickets are on sale now from the Trust's Wolseley Centre base. They cost £4 on the day, but £2.50 in advance.

Last year around 2,000 visitors sampled a choice of ales from local brewers including Slaters Ales, of Stafford, Alton-based Peak stones Rock Brewing Company, Blythe Brewery, of Lichfield, and White Shield, of Burton on Trent. Fine foods on offer this year will include breads, pastries, pickles, chutneys and savoury eggs. Hot food is also available. Live music will be on tap, too.

Wolseley Centre manager Alison Rhodes said: "The Food and Beer Festival is always a really popular event, and is a chance to sit back and enjoy the best of our local ales and produce, as well as raising money for the county's wildlife."

Jobs boost in plan for doggy day care

FOUR jobs will be created under plans for a dog day nursery. The application has been submitted for a vacant unit at the Image Business Park in Hednesford.

The plans seek to transform the empty unit, off East Cannock Road, into a dog creche. It will help people who need help looking after their pets.

by Harry Gottschalk

Cannock businesswoman Claire Smith, of Albert Street, has sent the application to planning chiefs at Cannock Chase District Council to convert the unit into a dog care centre over 2,690sq ft.

In the paperwork sent to the council's planning chiefs, Miss Smith says the business will be "similar to a child nursery setting" providing "an alternative to traditional kennels."

It is thought it will be used by people who need their dogs cared for while they are at work.

Grooming

She says: "The dog day care centre shall operate similar to a child nursery setting, as in the client shall drop off and pick up their dogs."

She adds: "Access to grooming facilities and services shall be available and this includes access to a self serve dog wash."

"Dogs shall be temperament and behaviour tested for enrolment to the day care, this is to ensure they are a suitable balanced candidate."

Miss Smith does not expect the unit to have more than 16 dogs at any one time accessing the dog day care centre. At present, there are no plans to have dogs kept overnight.

It is also pointed out to the council the new business would be careful to respect the surrounding area.

The report says: "A strict clean up/hygiene policy shall be enforced both internally and externally, ensuring the surrounding site, and units are not compromised by the facility."

"The dogs would not be walked in and around the business park or surrounding areas."

Miss Smith says the new business would create four jobs and the new enterprise would operate between the hours of 7am and 7pm, Monday to Saturday.

No date has yet been set for a decision.

Nursery's flight of fancy

Children at a Cannock nursery are looking after a family of caterpillars, and are waiting for them to transform into beautiful butterflies.

The new wriggly classmates have arrived at Happy Tots Nursery, Orbital Plaza, complete with their own food, from a specialist company who provides them for education purposes.

The little ones will be able to feed them sugar water to help them grow before taking the butterfly pavilion out into the garden to release them into their natural environment.

Cannock Happy Tots manager, Judy Kelly says "The children are so fascinated by the whole process."

Open day as print firm moves

Directors Matt Nation and Simon Talbot wrap a Ferrari at Kazoo in Cannock

A PRINTING firm held an open day following a move to new premises. Kazoo swapped its base, in Cross Street, Bridgtown, for a unit at Cedarwood Business Park off Avon Road.

The new factory boasts 50 per cent more space with potential for further expansion upstairs. The company has also taken on two new members of staff. Turnover at Kazoo has risen by between 15 and 20 per cent in each of the last two years.

Director Matt Nation said: "We have been looking for somewhere to move for a while but couldn't find anything until now."

Mr Nation, who runs the business with fellow director Simon Talbot, added the firm was looking to put in new machinery in which would create more jobs.

Pigeon fancier's hobby led to death

A BIRD lover who kept pigeons for most of his life died after suffering from a disease which affected his breathing, an inquest heard.

Gerald Perks, aged 75, of Penlridge, had kept the racing pigeons for around 60 years and had been diagnosed with a condition known as bird fancier's lung – an inflammation caused by from breathing in dust and sometimes feathers.

An inquest in Cannock heard how Mr Perks had suffered from shortness of breath, and had attended hospital where he was diagnosed with the disease.

Asthma

South Staffordshire Coroner Andrew Haigh recorded an accidental death verdict. He heard how Mr Perks was admitted to Stafford Hospital with shortness of breath on January 17 this year, but died six days later.

Mr Perks was found to have died from respiratory failure, bronchial pneumonia, bird fancier's lung and childhood asthma.

Widow Kathleen, aged 57, said: "He had pigeons since he was 14-years-old. A few years back he was diagnosed with bird fancier's lung. It started with asthma and then progressed."

Get in swing to celebrate

CANNOCK Lions Club will be swinging to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

The club has arranged a concert featuring Barbara Taylor and All That Jazz on Monday, June 4.

The event will be at Longford Social Club, Wellington Drive, Cannock, from 7.30pm.

Tickets are £6 and include nibbles and there will be a raffle for a typically British hamper. All proceeds will go to charities supported by Cannock Lions club.

Call Beverley on 07764 202842 for tickets.

Gig for charity

A CANNOCK club is raising money for a homeless project next week. TR Dallas will provide the entertainment at St Mary's Social Club, in Hallcourt Lane, on Friday (May 25). Tickets are £7 with the money going to the homeless charity SIFA Fireside. Call 01543 579364.

Donor dogs prove to be life-savers

SEVENTEEN dogs have proved themselves potential life-savers after donating blood.

The 387 Veterinary Centre in Great Wyrley hosted its first ever canine blood collecting session in support of Pet Blood Bank UK.

The charity provides a nationwide canine blood bank and is always looking to top up supplies.

Practice owner Hamish Duncan said: "We had a real variety of breeds from greyhounds, labradors, German shepherds and collies to a mastiff, a Siberian husky and even a Leonberger."

Mr Duncan added 15 of the pets were donating for the first time, and a third of them were able to give a unit of blood.

Pet Blood Bank UK collected seven full units of blood in all at the session on Saturday (May 19). Five units of blood were donated by rehomed rescue dogs.

Mr Duncan said this could potentially save up to 28 dogs' lives.

He added: "We are looking forward to our next session in around three months' time and would encourage all dog owners to consider registering their dog to become a donor, if they meet the criteria and register at www.petbloodbankuk.org."

Children in Olympic day

YOUNGSTERS staged their own version of the Olympic Games as the build-up to London 2012 continues.

Children at Jerome Primary in Norton Canes participated in a mini-Olympics and learned about the history and value of the Games. They also received medals, certificates and stickers for taking part.

The session was led by Progressive Sports. Sara Jones, PE co-ordinator at the Hussey Road school, said: "The children had a fantastic Olympics day. Even the rain could not stop the children's enthusiasm."

Fire crews tackle farmland blaze

PILES of wood and pallets went up in flames on farmland in Penkridge. Four fire crews battled the flames in Lower Drayton Lane on Saturday (May 12).

Firefighters from Cannock, Stafford, Rising Brook and Penkridge were called just before 4am.

Trust fund for tragic Liam raises £100,000

Teenager Liam Keeling

A MEMORIAL fund set up by a family who lost their son to meningitis has raised more than £100,000.

Liam Keeling, a former pupil at Cardinal Griffin High School, in Cannock, was just 13-years-old when he died in 2009.

Following the tragic loss of their son, Andy and Georgina Keeling set up a memorial fund in honour of his memory to raise funds for Meningitis UK.

With the help of the trust fund and its many supporters, they have raised more than £100,000 but according to Mr Keeling they will continue to raise money until a vaccine is found. Meningitis UK is looking to raise £7m towards vital research.

"Meningitis can kill within four hours and every week six families somewhere in the country will suffer the same devastating loss" Mr Keeling said.

"We have more fun events taking place in June where we will be looking to raise as much as possible to help Meningitis UK in their bid to raise £7million to help fund vital research to find a preventative vaccine and save thousands of lives in the future."

Fundraising events coming up include a 27-mile sponsored walk on Sunday, June 3. Some 35 people including 15 Aldridge postmen and six teachers from the George Slater Academy in West Bromwich will set off from the Clywedog dam, climb the 752 metres up Pumlumon Fawr peak and then end the walk by dipping their toes in the sea at Clarach Bay.

A sponsored bike ride starting at The Royal Oak in Norton Lane, Great Wyrley, takes place from noon on Saturday, June 16. Last year more than 50 cyclists attended the 10-mile event.

The Liam Keeling Memorial fund in support of the Ryan Cockbill Trust (an Olympic hopeful who was paralysed from the chest down in a swimming accident) will be hosting a cabaret evening at Walsall FC's Saddlers Club on Friday June 8. For more details, or to make a donation, call either Richard Holmes on 07825 747731 or Tim Rooney on 07738 837590.

Probe as confidential data is posted to wrong address

A CONFIDENTIAL document from Walsall Council containing codes that can be used to access the homes of vulnerable people was accidentally posted to the wrong address.

The letter, was sent to a home in Cheslyn Hay and contained details of 26 people in the Walsall area who had regular visits from carers.

It was said to reveal their names, addresses, visiting times of their carers and key safe codes.

Walsall Council said an investigation had been launched.

The woman who received the document has asked not to be named. She said: "I was extremely shocked when I found out I had been sent the details of service users."

"I am a relative of one of their service users. The document is a rota for the carers to tell them what times in the day their visits are," she added.

"It contains personal details of 26 service users and there are seven key safe numbers. They are all properties in the Bentley area."

Swiftly
The woman said: "The safety of these people has been put at risk. If this information falls into the wrong hands then the consequences would be devastating."

Paul Davies, Walsall Council's executive director for social care, said: "We treat this matter very seriously and measures were swiftly taken both to help ensure the security of service users and also to tighten up internal procedures."

It is not the first time confidential information relating to individuals has been misplaced. Last year confidential documents were found lying in the streets in Cannock.

Rain fails to dampen weight loss efforts

A REFORMED couch potato has launched his own boot camp to help unfit and overweight locals to shed the pounds.

Personal trainer Stuart Degville, from Walsall, has taken on a franchise of Fat Burner Boot Camp and can be found in Heath Hayes Park in Cannock four times a week leading an exercise class - whatever the weather. "There was torrential rain on Wednesday evening but we still went ahead and it was the most fun workout we've had so far," said Mr Degville.

Regime

The 32-year-old lost just under two stone in three months on the regime and added: "All people have to do is commit to three work-outs a week and follow a nutrition plan - we also provide cook books and other advice."

The sessions take place in the park on Wimblebury Road at 7pm on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and at 9.45am on Saturdays. Similar boot camps run in Walsall and Lichfield.

Cheques given out to charities

OUTGOING Burntwood Town Council chairman Eric Drinkwater handed over cheques to his nominated charities.

The Chase Terrace Scout Group, Chasewater District Guides, 1st Burntwood Scout Group and the Grow Well Project all benefited from Councillor Drinkwater's year in office.

Councillor Drinkwater said how pleased he was to be able to present £452.50 to each of the charities in support of the continuing invaluable support they give to our community.

Launch of new toddlers' group

A NEW group for babies and toddlers is launching in Cannock from next month.

Holy Terrors will meet at Mill Street Methodist Church Hall every Tuesday during term time from Tuesday, June 12.

The sessions will run from 9.30am until 11am. Adults must accompany children and each session costs £1.

The price includes refreshments.

Helicopter used as man missing

A POLICE helicopter was used in Burntwood to find a missing man.

A call was made to the police at around 11pm on Sunday (May 13) following reports of a vulnerable man had gone missing from the Burntwood area.

Police officers and Air One - the police force helicopter - searched the area, and the man was found.

Volunteers urged to roll up sleeves

BLOOD donors are urged to roll up their sleeves in Rugeley next week. NHS Blood and Transplant is appealing for volunteers to attend the Garner Suite at Lea Hall Social Club, Sandy Lane, on Wednesday, May 23.

To book a time, between 1.30 and 3.30pm or from 4.30 to 7.30pm, call 0300 123 23 23.

Fancy football

YOUNG footballers will don fancy dress for a fundraising training session on Saturday (May 19). About 100 players will take part in the fundraiser at Norton Canes Primary, School Road, from 10am.

Land Rover owners set up website to combat thefts

LAND Rover owners have set up their own internet group to combat increasing thefts of the vehicles.

Enthusiasts say an ever-growing number of older models are being stolen each week. Extra security is being advised, while a Land Rover Watch scheme set up on social media sites is said to be having some success.

Frank King, of Cannock, who founded the Series 3 and 90-110 Owners' Club, said reports of thefts were being made to the group on a weekly basis.

He said: "It is a major concern. Since they were first built in 1948, Land Rovers have been easy to strip down so they could be repaired."

"Now they are being stolen and either parts are being sold off or they are being put in containers and shipped abroad to wherever there is a market for it."

Security

Mr King has been instrumental in setting up Land Rover Watch, which uses Twitter and Facebook to circulate details of stolen vehicles in a bid to help track them down.

David Cassell, of Burntwood, has taken extra security measures after one of his prized Land Rovers, which he had spent years rebuilding, was stolen. There have been two other attempted thefts from his home.

Mr Cassell, aged 38, now parks a van across his driveway, has fitted security measures and even disconnects the fuel system in his cars to prevent them being stolen.

"The loss of the vehicle was very hard to cope with. I have taken lots of extra security," said the father-of-two.

New council chairman

BURNTWOOD Town Council has elected Councillor Rod Campbell as its new chairman. Councillor Campbell's chosen charities will be St Giles Hospice and the Newlife Foundation for Disabled Children. Councillor Ron Bradbury is vice-chairman, while Councillor Mrs Diane Evans was elected as leader of the council.

Pupils on track for race at Silverstone

Fair Oak Academy pupils in Rugeley with the battery-powered car they took out on the track at Silverstone

STUDENTS from Rugeley built a battery-powered car which they took out on a track at Silverstone. Pupils at Fair Oak Academy were involved in designing and building the car, to compete against other schools across the country.

The school took part in the Greenpower Education Trust event and entered the 80-minute race at the end of last month. Students used one set of batteries to power the car. Rachael Sandham, the school's design and technology lead practitioner, said the team finished 23rd out of 52 competitors.

Go-ahead for mast plan

PLANNERS have given the go-ahead for a 69ft mobile phone mast in Hednesford, saying the site would be the 'perfect location'.

Vodafone and Telefonica UK Limited, who provide coverage for O2, are to erect the mast, in Cannock Wood Road, to provide 3G coverage in the town and surrounding villages.

Cannock Chase Council's planning committee gave consent for the mast. Councillor Frank Allen said: "I can't see anything at this site that we could object to. If they are not put somewhere like here, then where are they suitable?"

Councillor Diane Todd added: "I think it's the perfect place."

Andy Webb, the national production manager, for builders' merchants EH Smith, next to the site, voiced fears over harm to himself, his staff and his customers. In a letter to the council, he said: "We believe the microwave radiation emitted by these masts are harmful at any distance of 400 metres or below. This proposed structure would be well under 400 metres from our office and yard area."

The proposed structure will be constructed entirely within the grounds of ATP Electronics on the existing industrial estate. The applicants said this to reduce the "visual impact".

thechronicleBad night for the Lib Dems at elections

MAY I express my gratitude to the people who voted for the Liberal Democrats at the District Elections on May 3.

It was a bad night for the Liberal Democrats, losing many dedicated, hard-working councillors. We must recognise the amazing effort these people have put in for the benefit of Cannock Chase over the years.

It is of concern that the electorate did not vote on a local level and recognise the Liberal Democrats' achievements like shared services, leisure outsourcing, new leisure centres for Rugeley and Cannock, and town centre developments.

Now Labour will be taking credit for the Liberal Democrats' achievements, perhaps the public will come to their senses over the next two years of the party being in control of Cannock Chase District Council, and judge them then.

Mining memorial service a fitting tribute

ON behalf of Chaps (Chase Arts for Public Spaces), can I sincerely thank all those people who attended the service to dedicate the mining memorial in Hednesford on April 28.

We believe the ceremony, with 1,500-plus present, was emotional but enjoyable and the project a fitting tribute to those who worked in the Cannock Chase coalfield. People travelled from many areas of the UK to pay tribute to family members who worked in our collieries. Flowers were placed by named bricks, tears were shed and memories shared. Chaps would like to record their thanks to Chase Orpheus Male Choir and Rugeley Power Station Band whose music enhanced the service, to our former MP and ex-Chaps chairman Dr Tony Wright, who joined us and introduced the service, to the Right Revd Nigel McCulloch, Bishop of Manchester who led the service and to Revd Paul Kelly, vicar of Hednesford, who assisted him.

We were also pleased to be joined by The Deputy Lieutenant of Staffordshire, James Leavesley and Vernon Jones, Trustee of the Coalfields Regeneration Trust, who both said it had been an honour to be present. Chaps also wish to thank Hednesford Town Council for their help in ensuring that we were able to achieve our ambition of marking and remembering our mining heritage in this way.

Sales of the book "A Lasting Tribute" were a huge success on the day and are continuing, which is very gratifying for the committee.

We are still receiving numerous enquiries for the book. For details of the book and any other information call 07866 526105.

Call for MP to bring up electorate's discontent

THE battering the Tories and Lib/Dems took on May 3 must be a wake up call for Cameron and Clegg, and to our MP Aidan Burley.

The message to Mr Burley must surely be: 'People in Cannock don't like this unfair government punishing ordinary people, rather than those responsible for economic failure'.

He must now make sure our discontent is brought up in Parliament. If he does not, it will not help his popularity in Cannock.

No provision for the future

RE: Mike Poppett's letter of April 26. Mr Poppett grew up in a time of plenty. Jobs were chasing men and great opportunities to provide for retirement were available, clearly he didn't provide for his future.

Now at the age of 66 up he pops blaming everyone for his present situation. It couldn't be Mr Poppett's own fault could it?

Support was appreciated

I WOULD like to thank everyone in Heath Hayes & Wimblebury who supported me in the local election on May 3.

I appreciate your support, but am saddened by the amount of voters who did not turn out.

However, as a member of the parish council I will still work hard to address any problems.

I also wish Diane Todd the best for her coming term as your local district councillor.

I would also like to thank my agent County Councillor John Bernard for his help.

Thanks to the voters

MANY thanks to all the residents of Norton Canes who weathered the storms on Thursday May 3 to come out and vote for me.

Also, I must thank the Labour Party, my agent Bert Mason, friends and members for their help with canvassing, all the people who were tellers at the polling stations, and friends and members for delivering all the leaflets.

Finally, I would like to express my sincere thanks to my family for all their support during my campaign.

I will be a good servant to you ALL.

Honoured to be elected

ON behalf of Brian Bottomer, Carl Bennett, Alan Dudson and myself may I thank the residents of Rugeley and Brereton for putting their faith in us to represent their interests at the local council.

All four of us are determined to make our area an even better place to live, and we are immensely honoured to have been elected by the residents in Hagley, Western Springs and Brereton and Ravenhill.

We would like to hear any thoughts, ideas or comments you have on how our town could be improved, so please contact us at rugeleylabour@gmail.com or use the hash-tag #rugeleyideal12 on Twitter

Schoolgirl left shaken after bite from ferret

A FIVE-YEAR-OLD Cannock girl was bitten by a ferret as she walked to school.

Sofia Harper and her little sister Mazie, aged three, were left shaken by the attack and are now too scared to walk to school, their mother claimed.

Hayley Harper described the attack, which left Sofia with a bite mark and scratches to her leg, as a terrifying ordeal.

It is believed the ferret had bolted from a home nearby before biting Sofia in Huntington Terrace Road as she walked to Chadsmoor Infant School, in Kingsway.

Mrs Harper said: "We were just walking down the street when we saw a ferret on the opposite side of the road. It ran across the road towards us and when the girls saw it, they just stood still."

Push

"I told them to move along but then as we started to move on it grabbed Sofia. A lady came out of a house and she picked up Mazie and they stood on a wall to get away from it."

"I was trying to get it off Sofia and in the end managed to push it away."

The ferret was picked up later by its owner. Mrs Harper reported the incident to Staffordshire Police.

Force spokesman Jane Hoult said: "We can confirm we received a call just after 9.30am on May 3 of an incident of a ferret running out from an address in Huntington Terrace Road, causing slight injury to a girl."

"Following the incident, the ferret was caught by someone at the address."

Ramble through dales

A MODERATE eight-to-nine mile walk at Millers Dale and Chee Dale is being organised by the Chase & District Ramblers this weekend. Departure time is 9am from Hednesford rail station car park, in Anglesey Street, on Sunday (May 20). Walk leader is Mac on 01785 714046.

Pit pony Bob, the last of his breed still working in Staffordshire, finally retires from Cannock Wood Colliery in 1969.

Changing shift at Littleton Colliery in Huntingdon, which was the last of the Chase mines to close in 1993

The life and rhymes of passionate poet Aer Reg

THE folk of Cannock Chase are fortunate to have in their midst a poet of rare talent – Reg Fullelove BEM, of Heath Hayes.

Reg, known as 'Aer Reg' is a man who is infused with a passion for his place and his people and by a belief that those yet to come must know of the lives led by those gone.

Reg's rare talent is that he is able to pass on history through moving, evocative and sensitive poems that capture imaginations and empower young and old alike to see, touch, smell, taste and hear the past.

Exciting

And wonderfully, this ability to arouse the physical senses is matched by that of exciting the feelings of mind, soul and heart.

For many years Reg, with his late wife Brenda, also gave talks to societies of all kinds and visited schools. Indeed

by Carl Chinn

these visits were much more than talks for they embraced poetry and small exhibitions.

A deliver of distinction, Reg would bring with him prized possessions and memorabilia of days gone by, especially to enthuse young people with an interest and understanding of what had been before.

This reaching out to the past for the sake of both the present and the future began back in the mid-1970s when Christopher Phipps was covering the Black Country area for what was then BBC Birmingham from 1974-80.

During this period Christopher carried out many interviews that are now of importance historically, while he also produced and presented 'Wulfrun Echo' for the station and made documentaries. Reg was an early contributor to 'Wulfrun Echo' and continued to feature until it ended.

It was then that Reg Fullelove took the writing name of 'Aer Reg'. It was fitting that he did so for from that day onwards he belonged to Cannock and its folk, as indeed he does to the wider West Midlands.

He is no longer going out and about with his talks, yet Aer Reg still reaches out to us through his words and sentiments. Some of his poems have been collected in a book called Three Pounds of Sugar.

As Reg said: "So many times I've heard those words 'when I was little' and so I decided to create that world in book form".

Others have been gathered by his grand-daughter, who is a lecturer, into a booklet just for the family. It is called: 30 Years of Aer Reg. The Stuff You've Loved.

Sadness at news of death Thanks are given to outgoing chairman

CANNOCK CHASE LADIES PROBUS CLUB

Immediate past president Eileen Cryer flanked by Sue Gay and Pam McGauley

RETIRING chairman Eva Eustace welcomed everyone to the AGM at the Barns restaurant, Cannock, and extended a special welcome to two new members, Gillian Worral-Arnold and Christine Taylor, who were then inducted into the club.

Mrs Eustace was sorry to inform members of the death of May Newton, a longtime member of the club. Joan Edmunds said Grace.

The ladies then enjoyed an excellent luncheon.

After the business of the AGM Mrs Eustace thanked the committee for their loyal support during her two years in office. She made a special vote of thanks to Elsie Parkes on her retirement as speakers' secretary. She will be replaced by Eileen Cryer.

Mrs Eustace also welcomed Pat Elwell as vice-chairman. The previous vice-chairman Pat Preece thanked Mrs Eustace for her chairmanship and presented her with a beautiful flower arrangement on behalf of the club.

Mrs Eustace passed the badge of office to Mrs Preece and invited her to take the chair for the ensuing year.

Mrs Preece said it was a privilege to be chairman, for the second time. She then introduced her committee.

THE chain of office for the Presidency of St Cannock & District will be worn by six members over the coming year. The Presidents will work in teams of two, the first team being Pam McGauley and Sue Gay.

Their first role was to present outgoing President Eileen Cryer with a beautiful flower arrangement from members as a thank you for her term of office.

President Pam congratulated Eileen on her successful year, then the joint incumbents told the club about some of the events planned up until August. Two Speaker meetings are planned; on May 22, Audrey Hall will talk about 'Shirley Valentine' and on July 3 Jill Sly will give a talk entitled 'Crime Doesn't Pay'. These meetings will be at 7pm at The Barns, Cocksparrow Lane.

The club is hosting the Region meeting in June. It is also working with Cannock Lions and the Rotary Club to organise a Queen's Jubilee community day on June 2.

A journey up the pavement

ON April 19, 29 members enjoyed a trip to the Stafford Gatehouse Theatre to see a production of 42nd Street, performed by Stafford Operatic Society. It was a great evening for everyone.

Eric Newton's talk on April 26 was entitled 'A Journey up the Pavement' and in between talking of his interesting life as a 'busker from Stoke-on-Trent' he played the clarinet.

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

During his life he has followed an extraordinary career route, including as a gardener at Trentham and as a boatman, but always played clarinet at pubs or clubs.

He is available for talks or to play at functions and can be contacted on 01270 877885, 07754 110846 or via email ericnewton1@yahoo.com. Pauline won the raffle.

Roger Cornish gets ready for the open mic night at The Swan with Two Necks in Longdon SINGERS, musicians and other talented performers are being sought to perform at a pub near Rugeley.

The Swan with Two Necks in Longdon is launching a weekly open mic talent night and is looking for people to take to the stage.

Neil Morten, who took over the pub last year, says he is not just looking for musical talent. Magicians and comedians are also welcome.

He said: "The hunt is on for anyone in the area who has a talent and wants to perform."

"We'll provide the microphones, amplifier and PA, we just need the performers."

"The audience will put a few coins in a hat, and those who get up to perform go into a draw for the takings."

The open mic talent night will be held at the pub every Thursday from 8pm.

For more information on performing at one of the upcoming shows call the pub on 01543 490251.

Linked probed on distraction raids

POLICE are investigating a possible link between three distraction burglaries in Staffordshire - one of which took place in Cannock.

Conmen posing as water board officials tricked their way into three pensioners' homes in Cannock, Stafford and Barlaston, escaping with cash and jewellery.

In Cannock on Friday, May 4, a man in his 30s called at the Devon Road home of an elderly resident, claiming to be from the water board, and told her he needed to check the supply. He entered the house but nothing was taken.

One of the men was white, in his 50s, 5ft 10-11ins tall, of medium build. He wore a dark cap, a beige bomber jacket and had an Irish accent.

There is no description of his accomplice. The two men fled in a light-coloured, possibly gold, Toyota Avensis.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Staffordshire Police on 101.

Theft of mountain bike

A MOUNTAIN bike worth £400 was stolen from a home in Burntwood. The silver-coloured Kona Kikapu cycle was taken from Rugeley Road, Chase Terrace, between 3.20pm and 4pm last Wednesday, May 9. The full suspension bike, which has 27 gears, was taken from the garage which was open at the time. Anyone with information should ring Staffordshire Police on 101 quoting incident number 460 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Taxi trio clock up a fare old distance in challenge

Paul Archer, left, Johnno Ellison and Leigh Purnell, from Burntwood, arrive in Covent Garden at the end of their It's On The Meter expedition

A BURNTWOOD man has arrived back in London with his three friends after completing an epic journey around the world in a taxi.

Former Stafford College student Leigh Purnell, aged 25, has been on a worldwide tour in aid of the British Red Cross raising around £20,000.

He and his pals Paul Archer and Johnno Ellison headed back through Europe and have clocked over 43,000 miles across four continents and 50 different countries.

Since they set off from Covent Garden, London, in February last year, the adventures have covered 10 time zones.

The men have spent 15 months on the long record-breaking journey with the hardy old 'Hannah' - their weather-beaten, 20-year-old black cab.

The trio were welcomed home by fellow cabbies on the cobbled piazza of London's Covent Garden, where their extraordinary trip began.

In 2009 the three friends bought a 20-year old London black cab for £1,500 on ebay. It already had 100,000 miles on the clock.

They named the car Hannah, after the Ella Fitzgerald song about the man-hater Hard-Hearted Hannah, and set about planning their route.

"It has been emotional," said Leigh. "We've been overwhelmed by the support we've been given by everyone, as well as the countless number of strangers who've been kind enough to help us."

Fire crew visits toddlers

YOUNGSTERS from Hammerwich Parent and Toddler Group enjoyed a visit from a Chase Terrace fire crew. A spokesman said: "We think it is important for them to have an understanding of fire safety from a young age." The group meets on a Wednesday from 10am to noon and from 1-3pm at Burntwood Memorial Institute in Rugeley Road.

Talks over cash given to council by store bosses

TALKS are continuing between council chiefs in Cannock and Asda over who should keep £500,000 paid as a condition for building a store in the town. Asda paid the cash to the local authority as part of the conditions attached to building a supermarket in Avon Road in 2005.

The money was intended for an artificial sports pitch at Cannock Stadium in Pye Green Road. But since the stadium was demolished in November 2009, Asda has been trying to claim the cash back.

Meanwhile, a meeting between council chiefs and Asda to discuss the upkeep of a the town's community park - another condition imposed by the planning process - has been postponed until May 24.

Bow to the brothers

Shane Palmer, aged 10, and brother Billy, 13, with their medals and trophies won from the art of Tae kwon do

TWO young brothers have become so good at the art of Tae kwon do that their father has to call them 'Sir'.

Billy and Shane Palmer are both black belts and British champions in the Korean martial art which is becoming increasingly popular in the UK.

And their father Dean, who took up the sport in 2010 after years of watching them compete, must show respect to his sons' greater expertise by addressing them as 'sir', normally used by juniors to address seniors.

Dean, of Mosswood Street, Cannock, said: "It sounds funny but they're both way better than me. I'm trying to catch up but I'm sure that won't happen."

Billy, aged 13, who is the current British champion in the 152cm class and the best lightweight in the country, took up the sport when he was seven.

Shane, aged 10, is the British number one in the 137cm category. He took up the martial art as soon as he was tall enough, two years later. The brothers train five times a week and have 45 national titles between them.

Firefighters deal with grass blazes

FIREFIGHTERS were called to tackle three grass blazes on Cannock Chase last weekend.

The first blaze in Sherbrook Valley, affected an area of around 100 square metres. It is thought to have been deliberately started.

Fire crews from Cannock were called to the scene at around 4pm on Sunday (May 13).

The flames are said to have spread more quickly due to the dry and sunny weather.

The force's new £225,000 Unimog fire fighting machine, which carries a greater volume of water, was used to help tackle the blaze.

The appliance is specially designed to deal with woodland fires and animal rescues and came into use last month.

Crews later tackled two smaller blazes in Shoal Hill Common at around 7.40 and at Lowland Road, Huntington, just before 9pm.

The first was caused by an unattended camp fire while the second was sparked by a large bonfire which had been left burning.

Arson
Deliberate grass fires in the county had almost doubled last year. Crews attended 633 grass fires between July and September, up 258 from 375 for the same period last year.

An extra engine has been put in place at Cannock's new community station during school holidays to tackle the number of arson attacks.

Saddle up plea to women

WOMEN can rediscover the benefits of cycling with a series of free rides on Cannock Chase.

Cycle events are taking place all year round organised by The Breeze network, a cycling group especially for women.

The next ride will take place on Sunday (May 20) at 10.30am from the Birches Valley Forest Centre, in Birches Valley, Lady Hill, Rugeley.

Reputation gingered up by curry lovers' accolade

Bob and Diane Todd, with Councillor Christine Mitchell handing over the Midlands Balti Association award to manager Abdul Karim

Blue Ginger restaurant, located in Stafford Road, Huntington

A RESTAURANT has been named the best by a group of curry lovers, just a year since opening up.

The Blue Ginger, in Stafford Road, Huntington, was named the best restaurant in the Cannock area by the Midlands Balti Association. Boss Abdul Karim and his staff were assessed on a number of criteria, including food, service and atmosphere and Mr Karim said he was delighted to have received the accolade.

"We are very happy to have won," he said. "Particularly after such a short time."

Comedian David St John led the entertainment at an awards night attended by invited guests and dignitaries. Councillors Bob and Diane Todd handed over the award.

Blue Ginger, located in the premises of the former Orissa restaurant, which closed down four years ago, has also been commended on the bestofcannock website. Staff are inviting and appear to be winning their challenge to win back former customers and attract new ones.

Quality

Comments from customers are favourable, while my partner and I can vouch for the quality, and quantity of food on offer. The restaurant has undergone a complete interior refurbishment and is beautifully laid out to accommodate couples or larger parties.

Poring over the varied menu is like leafing through a book, with speciality and seafood dishes among its lures. The poppadums are not traditionally round, but are moreish all the same. We were even treated to starters of samosas and a korai kebab before our main course choices of chicken tikka badami and monkfish relish.

Blue Ginger is licensed to serve alcohol and caters for 120 diners. It has 12 staff members.

Opening hours are 5.30-11.30pm Monday to Thursday with a two-for-one offer on meals. On a Friday and Saturday, it is open until midnight, while an all-you-can-eat Sunday buffet is on offer from 1-10.30pm. Call 01543 500300.

Feeling hot, hot, hot as bar hosts chilli challenge

Owner Alastair Payne gets ready for the chilli cook-off at the bank bar in Wolverhampton Road, Cannock

A FORMER Masterchef quarter-finalist will be among the judges at a cookery contest in Cannock next week.

Mat Davis, from Cannock, featured on the TV show in 2006 and will be joined on the panel by Cannock & Rugeley Chronicle editor Mark Shipley and Emma Farmer, a sub-editor on the Wolverhampton magazine.

Alastair Payne, owner of the bank bar and lounge in Wolverhampton Road, has launched the search to find the area's top chilli chef. The cook-off is on Tuesday, May 22, from 7pm.

More than a dozen budding chefs will be putting their skills to the taste test. It is the second time the bar has run the competition.

A pudding cook-off and a curry contest have also proved popular and Alastair said: "We should have around 15 to 20 entrants so it should be a fun night." He added the creation could be a 'red hot one, a veggie one or even a total surprise.'

Mat, aged 41, worked with Alastair at the bank bar and designed its first menu. He said as a judge he would be looking to find a chilli that was not too hot on the first taste and had the right texture.

A trophy and a bottle of champagne is up for grabs for the winner. Call 509251 for more details.

Food for thought at health conference

SOUTH Staffordshire College is hosting a conference to promote healthy living. More than 100 students were meeting today (Thursday) at the Rodbaston Campus to discuss issues like sexual health and teenage partner abuse.

The Healthy Education Programme is focused on stimulating discussion and debate so that young people can voice their views on what they want to see in colleges around the health agenda and to share feedback with others.

Loudmouth Theatre Company will be performing various scenarios for the students, who will take part in interactive workshops, working in groups to discuss the issues.

Refit on the menu

Head waiter Mohammed Ali at Shaan Balti House

A CHESLYN Hay restaurant has been transformed following a refit that has included brand new kitchens. The Shaan Balti House on High Street, has been given the overhaul.

Following the launch of a new menu and the refurbishment, new owner Mohammed Gulistan said: "We have had a lot of work done to the building. As well as a new menu we have had a complete refit of the kitchens, new flooring, storage area and even the garden at the back has been done up."

"We are really pleased with the results and it does look great," he added.

"I'm sure everyone will see the difference. We have taken our time to make sure that everything is right and we are so happy with what has been done. People are already saying they like it."

Mr Gulistan took over the venue in February last year and is confident the hard work will pay off.

He added: "I really hope old customers come back and new customers come along and sample our great food."

Train delays due to overhead fault

TRAINS were cancelled and passengers delayed after an overhead cable fault caused disruptions on the Midlands rail network.

More than 30 trains were cancelled on the Birmingham to Rugeley route and a reduced timetable of services introduced over nine hours of problems.

It was caused by the loss of power to the 25,000-volt electricity overhead power lines near Walsall station just after 10.30am last Wednesday (May 9).

There were delays between Walsall and Birmingham New Street, while trains due from Wolverhampton to Walsall had to terminate at Birmingham.

Replacement bus services were introduced as trains from Rugeley were forced to stop at Bloxwich. Operators London Midland had to rely on using diesel trains.

Network Rail sent teams

Wildlife art on display

ARTIST David Spencer is back to exhibit his work at the Museum of Cannock Chase in Hednesford. The wildlife artwork is being exhibited in the Valley Road venue's coffee shop until July 1. The paintings are inspired by David's regular visits to the area and feature a series of acrylic paintings on Welsh slate, mostly of birds which can be seen on the Chase. Annette French, museum services manager, said: "David's beautiful and delicate bird paintings are a delightful addition to our changing programme."

Head proud over rating by Ofsted

A PROUD Hednesford head has heaped praise on his staff and pupils after inspectors ruled his school as 'good.'

Ofsted inspectors visited Kingsmead Technology College in April, a year since headteacher Ian Bryant took the helm at the Kings Avenue school. Its findings were that the school was good in all four categories of achievement, teaching, behaviour and safety and leadership and management as well as in its overall judgement.

In their report, the inspection team said: "This is a good school. The headteacher and his senior team provide high quality leadership and the school continues to improve."

Inspection

"Students develop well, both academically and as rounded individuals, well-prepared for their future lives."

During the two-day inspection, the team sat in on 37 lessons, observed the teaching and learning and the way the pupils behaved.

They spoke to children and reviewed their work and visited tutor groups and an assembly.

During the rigorous inspection, the team also walked the corridors, visited the dining room, analysed questionnaires, interviewed governors and conducted meetings with senior leaders.

Mr Bryant, previously the deputy head, said: "We were delighted that the team judged that Kingsmead is a good school."

"We have worked hard since the last inspection to address the areas raised in our previous report and the team saw first hand the improvements that have been made to the quality of teaching and the resulting achievement of our students."

"I have repeatedly said to different audiences that I am very proud to be headteacher of Kingsmead."

"I would like to publicly thank the staff

Proud - Kingmead headteacher Ian Bryant who have continued to work hard for the benefit of every student.

"I would also like to congratulate and thank our students. They are a credit to us."

The report said students made progress and worked hard to appreciate the wide range of opportunities provided, from sports clubs to Saturday School. Behaviour and safety was also praised.

The report said: "Students feel very safe in school. They are courteous and behave well."

The team also ruled that: "Teaching is good and is supported by a simple but effective approach to lesson structure."

It added: "The leadership of the school is good. There is a clear vision and purpose shared by all staff."

Deadline nears on free tickets for Jubilee dance

FREE tickets are still available for a Jubilee tea dance organised by Burntwood Town Council.

The event is taking place on Monday, June 4, from 2-4.30pm at Burntwood Memorial Institute, Rugeley Road. Entry is strictly by ticket only, but the deadline to obtain them is fast approaching.

Anyone wishing to attend has only until May 28 to claim their ticket. The hall has a capacity of around 200 people and already more than 100 tickets have been given away.

For tickets, contact the council offices at Lambourne House, Bridge Cross Road, on 01543 677166, or email info@burntwood-tc.gov.uk

Grant means hospice can extend home care provision

HOSPICE bosses are to continue piloting an improved care at home service after receiving almost £40,000.

St Giles Hospice will roll out the 12-month scheme to areas including Cannock and Walsall after receiving the cash from Help the Hospices.

Council is accused of 'selling off its people'

THE COUNTY council has been accused of 'selling off its services and its people' amid plans to allow the private sector to provide daytime childcare at council-run children's centres across Staffordshire.

Officials say the move will save £800,000 a year. However, former county councillor Maureen Compton has accused the council of having "no thought" of the consequences of the plans.

Six children's centres that are currently run by the county council would be affected. These include Cannock Children's Centre at Blackford.

Mrs Compton, a former Labour Stafford borough and county councillor, said: "The county council is trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the population by pretending they want good childcare services when in fact all they want to do is to sell off parts of the services."

"The county council is selling off its services and its people and to what end?"

Councillor Mike Lawrence, cabinet member for children's wellbeing, said: "I strongly refute the suggestion that we are 'selling off' services, the county council values all of the services provided by our children's centres."

The cabinet was due to discuss the plans yesterday (Wednesday).

Coffee shop opens at residential home

RESIDENTS at a Great Wyrley care home can now 'wake up and smell the coffee' without leaving the comfort of their home. Waters Edge Care Home, on Stafford Road, has opened its very own on-site coffee shop for residents and their friends and relatives to enjoy.

Senior carer Sean Williams came up with the idea of turning one of the lounges into the café-style coffee shop. The makeover took eight weeks to complete. The room is now decorated with new pictures, vintage teapot decorations, tablecloths and plants. It was officially opened on Saturday May 12 by Great Wyrley councillor Kath Perry.

Care home manager Sandra Potts said: "It has proved very popular so far."

It will see nurses and healthcare assistants provide specialist care to those living with cancer and other illnesses. The 12-month trial will mean improved access to home care following a £39,000 grant from the private charitable foundation.

Nurses will visit homes between 4.30pm and 10.30pm seven days a week over the next year.

Chiefs say this will complement the current availability of staff at the home during working hours and at night.

Enhance

Louise Savage, Hospice at Home manager, said: "This underlines just how much we depend on charitable support to provide our care across the community - both from generous local people and through grants such as this."

"We would like to thank Help the Hospices and the St James's Place Foundation for making it possible to extend and enhance our Hospice at Home service."

"This has been on our wish-list for quite some time. We're absolutely thrilled with this grant."

The Hospice at Home service has been serving the community since 2002.

Patients from across the region including Cannock, Lichfield and Walsall use the charity's services. St Giles spends more than £8m a year providing its services.

Jobs for carers

A CARE company providing care for elderly people is to create 500 jobs - mainly for carers - across the West Midlands in the next 12 months. Home Instead Senior Care has seven offices in the region including one in Cannock.

Time slots still available for Jubilee entertainers

MUSICIANS, singers and DJs are invited to showcase their talents at a Jubilee event in Cannock next month. The June 2 event has been organised by the Soroptimists, the Rotary Club and Lions Club of Cannock. The free, community fun day will feature film shows of Her Majesty's reign and of Cannock from the 1950s to the present day.

An afternoon of music kicks off at noon, led by organist Jean Martyn. Recorded and live music will continue until 6pm when two tenors will lead a Last Night of the Proms-style singalong, complete with flag-waving. Time slots are still available and anyone wishing to take part should call Doug Smith on 07771 915020.

Road shut in £50m town scheme soon back in use

A MAJOR road that was closed in Hednesford causing months of traffic chaos is set to re-open at the end of the month, council bosses have revealed.

Victoria Street was closed in February as part of a wider £50m regeneration of the town.

Council is looking for nominee to carry flame

COUNCILLORS in Cannock are looking for an ambassador to bring the Paralympic flame from London.

Cannock Chase has been chosen to host a flame celebration in August to mark the start of the Games - and the authority wants to hear nominations for who should travel to London.

The ambassador will attend the London flame lighting event on August 24 and bring part of the flame back to Cannock Chase in a special Paralympic lantern.

A celebratory day of events takes place on August 25 at Chase Leisure Centre. The flame will be kept at the Stafford Road centre for the public to view and will also be touring the district's other leisure facilities.

The council wants to hear about inspirational people in the district who should be the flame ambassador.

Nominations should be sent to deborahpearce@cannockchasedc.gov.uk by May 25 or posted to: Cannock Chase Council, Civic Centre, Bee-croft Road, Cannock, WS11 1BG.

People should say why the nominee should be the ambassador in no more than 250 words, and include a name and contact number. The ambassador should live or work in Cannock Chase District or be involved with a sports club in the area.

MP meets charity on wheelchair law

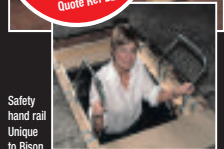

STAFF from a Cannock-based children's charity met transport minister Norman Baker to discuss possible changes to the law on wheelchairs.

Earlier this year the minister backed a Newlife campaign to increase the weight limit of class two wheelchairs - from 113kg to 150kg - making some of the most hi-tech mobility aids legally available to the under-14s for the first time.

Newlife is also calling for an increase in the weight limit for class three wheelchairs to 200kg, from 150kg, and remove the existing minimum age restriction of 14.

CEO Sheila Brown said: "We are delighted the minister agreed to meet us to discuss what we consider to be an outdated law."

Image of £13m complex released as work to start

A computer generated image of how the £13m scheme for the growing older population in Penkridge will look

WORK on a new £13 million development for older people in Penkridge will begin next month, bosses have revealed.

It is hoped the new extra care complex, being built at the site of the former Silverdene care home in Tildesley Close, will help tackle an expanding elderly population.

South Staffordshire has the fastest growing over-85s population in the country.

It is predicted that by 2031 there will be an extra 7,500 elderly people in the district.

Council chiefs said there was a desperate need for the scheme, which boasts 82 apartments for people aged over 55.

Planning permission was granted earlier this month despite concerns from some residents who deemed it to be too big for the intended site. It is hoped work will be completed by November 2013.

Quality

Ursula Bennion, director of business development for Housing Plus, said: "The scheme will provide much-needed high-quality housing and support for local people."

"Almost a quarter of residents living in the village of Penkridge are aged between 50 and 64 and Silverdene is designed to meet the housing needs of not just these people but for others who need care and support, for many years to come."

Care Plus, which is part of Housing Plus along with South Staffordshire Housing Association, will be managing the scheme.

It is being funded by a £1.14m investment from the Homes and Communities Agency and a £1.1m boost from South Staffordshire Council, as well as a donation of land.

Brian Edwards, leader of South Staffordshire Council, said: "We desperately need facilities like this in the district. The population is getting older and with the baby-boomer generation fast approaching retirement age, it means we need to act now."

"That's why we're investing more than £1m into this project. That's how important we think this development is."

Chance to get your hands on Jethro DVD and tickets

HAILED as Cornwall's top comic, Jethro brings his West Country humour to the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock next month.

Born in 1948, in St Buryan in the west of the county, Jethro, born Geoff Rowe, apprenticed as a carpenter after leaving school.

He worked a timber man in a tin mine and at the age of 18, joined the St Just and District Operatic Society.

In addition to his bass voice, locals found he had a talent to make an audience laugh and from there he began to visit the pubs and clubs of Cornwall to sing and joke.

Anniversary

He will be at the Church Street Centre on Thursday, June 14, from 7.30pm with tickets priced at £19.

The Chronicle also has two DVDs and a pair of tickets to give away to two lucky winners. To win, send in a postcard, with your name, address and a daytime contact number with the answer to the following question. What is Jethro's real name?

The closing date is Wednesday, May 30. Send your entries to: Jethro DVD, Cannock & Rugeley Chronicle, 51-53 Queen Street, Wolverhampton, WV1 1ES.

In the year of the Olympics and the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, Terry Bradford and Susie Arveson will be Rolling Out the Barrel for the 10th anniversary of the popular, uplifting show.

The show has been delighting audiences all over the country with its mix of music and memories. The nostalgia fest features more than 65 well-known tunes and takes place on Wednesday, June 13 at 2.30pm. Tickets are priced at £12.50, £11 concessions.

Herman's Hermits are playing at the Prince of Wales Centre on June 15

Sixties favourites Herman's Hermits follow Jethro at the Prince of Wales Centre on Friday, June 15.

Fronted by Peter Noone, the Manchester band had a string of hits in the 60s with the likes of No Milk Today, There's a Kind of Hush, Me I'm Into Something Good, Mrs Brown You've Got a Lovely Daughter and I'm Henry the Eighth I Am. Tickets are £17 and £16 for a 7.30pm start.

For details and tickets of all Prince of Wales Centre shows, call the box office on 01543 578762.

The stunning views of Windermere from the Waterhead at Ambleside

Al fresco dining at the English Lakes' hotel the Waterhead

The restaurant at the Waterhead – a pleasant gourmet experience

The 4-Star Waterhead hotel at Ambleside

Take poet's word on the beauty of Lake District

BEAUTIFUL scenery, romantic walks and famous waterways. The birthplace of Wordsworth and the setting for Beatrix Potter's best-known works. It can only be the Lake District.

The largest of the 13 national parks in England and Wales and comprising the deepest and longest lakes in the country, namely Wastwater and Windermere, it has been a popular tourist destination for years.

It is such a heavenly place to visit, yet, somehow it took my partner and I 40 years to discover its beauty.

Be it Kendal, Buttermere, Grizedale or Ambleside, where we stayed, there is so much to see and enjoy on a relaxing break. Keswick and Grasmere are close enough to enjoy a day out, sampling a cream tea in the former before popping around the shops and calling in at the famous Old Friars' sweet store and traipsing around the market.

Pretty Grasmere, where the Wordsworth graves are located at St Oswald's Church, accompanied by a walkway of inscribed bricks, was described by the poet as 'the loveliest spot that man hath ever found'.

Setting

Wordsworth had lived in Grasmere for 14 years before his death in 1850 and it is easy to see why he fell in love with the place. Of course, no visit to Grasmere would be complete without a visit to Sarah Nelson's ginger shop.

We stayed at one of six hotels in the English Lakes group – the 4-Star Waterhead, in a prime setting overlooking Windermere.

We were able to sit out on the balcony looking out at the lake, or watching the many boat trips come and go. The nearby Low Wood Bay also gives guests the opportunity to try out watersports or use its leisure complex.

Dining at the Waterhead bar & grill is a pleasant gourmet experience – I even tried pigeon as a starter – while breakfast set us up perfectly for the days ahead. The 24 rooms are all en suite, with TV and free toiletries and tea and coffee-making facilities.

All rooms are named after waterfalls. But the watery connection doesn't end there. A stroll through the town led to the discovery of the Stock Ghyll Force, a spectacular 70-foot waterfall which tumbles down into the centre of the town before passing under a bridge.

Bowness-on-Windermere provided a stop-off on our journey back. The home of the Beatrix Potter attraction, we also discovered the tastiest fish ever from the Seafarer chip shop.

Hair and beauty students heading for contest final

TWO South Staffordshire College students gained first and second places in the final of a regional hair dressing contest. Rachel Wilson and Rebecca Heath were two of the 13 hair and beauty students who competed against 10 other colleges in the regional rounds to gain a place in the grand final of the competition run by the Francesco group.

They were required to use their own models, find sources and inspiration for their styles and then set to work achieving a unique look. Head of faculty Kaye Turner said she was delighted with the students' success.

Brooch with Royal links to go under the hammer

A GOLD brooch worth up to £5,000 which has links to the Royal Family will go under the hammer in Penkridge later this month.

The piece of jewellery, set with a cabochon stone, has a locket on the reverse and has purported links to Queen Victoria's daughter Princess Helena.

For sale – the gold brooch

The brooch bears the inscription: "Princess Helena April 23rd 1847".

The date of the auction, Friday May 25 at Cattlestones Auctioneers, coincides with the date the princess was born.

Auctioneer Dave Eglington said: "This is a wonderful story and, whilst our research has shown no firm record that this was a gift from Queen Victoria, due to its quality and the fact that the dates corroborate with the princess's infancy, there is a good chance that this could, indeed, be a Royal gift to her."

"When you add this romantic history to the fact that this is a very attractive, high-quality piece of Victorian jewellery in its own right, we anticipate significant interest from both those interested in its purported Royal connections and those interested in its aesthetic value."

Aesthetic

"What makes this even more interesting is that the lot is due to be auctioned on the 166th anniversary of Princess Helena's date of birth."

Born on May 25, 1846, as the fifth child of Victoria and Albert, Princess Helena went on to marry the impoverished German Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein.

The princess died aged 77 on June 19, 1923.

The brooch, which carries a guide price of between £3,000-£5,000, is part of a fine art sale. The catalogue will be available online from tomorrow (Friday) and viewing will be from 10am until 7pm and on Thursday, May 24.

For more details, visit office@cattlestones.co.uk or call Cattlestones, in Pinfold Lane, on 01785 714905.

Hospital bosses on hunt for governors

BOSSES at Stafford Hospital are on the lookout for six governors to help scrutinise the work of the hospital and hold bosses to account.

Those elected will also represent the concerns of people and patients at both Stafford Hospital and Cannock Chase Hospital.

Chiefs at the Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust need to elect three people for Cannock constituency, two for Stafford and an additional one for the surrounding areas.

They will fill the six spaces currently on the Council of Governors but anyone wanting to be nominated as a governor needs to be a member of the trust.

MP takes on news empire in scandal over hacking

Dial M For Murdoch: News Corporation and the Corruption of Britain – Tom Watson and Martin Hickman (Allen Lane, hardback, £20)

THE SCANDAL surrounding media mogul Rupert Murdoch's news empire strikes at the heart of the British establishment.

The revelations of phone hacking, obsequious politicians and compliant senior police officers have left a bad smell.

One politician who can't be described as obsequious is West Bromwich East MP Tom Watson, who came under the national spotlight with his forthright questioning of both Murdoch senior and his son James when the media barons were summoned by parliamentary committee.

The Labour politician came under News Corporation's spotlight some years earlier, probably as a result of his involvement in moves to persuade Tony Blair to step down as Prime Minister.

Watson can be forgiven the relish he showed when facing the Murdochs when one hears of the intimidation which he believes was a response to his digging into practices at News International. In this book co-written with Independent journalist Martin Hickman, Watson reveals that the stress cost him his marriage and almost his sanity.

Tom Watson MP

The MP's new book

Media mogul Rupert Murdoch

But the facts uncovered by the MP and several print and broadcast journalists led to two of the most powerful men in world media facing a grilling from MPs.

Arrests

The scandal has already resulted in many senior people losing their jobs, more than 40 arrests, and the closure of one of the world's best known Sunday newspapers. Even Rupert Murdoch admits that the News Of The World affair is "a blot on my reputation".

It isn't over yet. May began with a split in the culture committee, which includes Mr Watson, after its report declaring that Rupert Murdoch was not a fit person to exercise stewardship of a major international company. Police investigations continue as does Lord Leveson's inquiry.

To get inside this still evolving story, Watson and Hickman's partisan but compelling book is essential.

Also recently published: Russia: A 1,000 Year Chronicle of the Wild East – Martin Sixsmith (BBC, paperback, £9.99). The former BBC Moscow correspondent looks at how a troubled history has forged modern Russia, examining such traits as the desire for a strong 'iron fist' leader.

Queen Anne: The Politics of Passion – Anne Somerset (Harper Press, hardback, £25). At last a sympathetic biography for the last Stuart monarch who, if she gets a mention at all, it is usually for being very overweight and having lesbian affairs. She was and she did but there was a lot more to the queen who reigned 1702 to 1714.

A Visitor's Companion to Tudor England – Suzannah Lipscomb (Ebury Press, hardback, £12.99). Dr Lipscomb selects Tudor locations across the country, including Harvington Hall and Kenilworth Castle, to give an insight into the 1500s. Leon Burakowski

Such strings of success

CBSO, Symphony Hall.
IT was a battle of virtuosos violinists at Symphony Hall, and Birmingham's home-grown Laurence Jackson lost nothing in comparison with international solo superstar James Ehnes.

Big-name Canadian guest Ehnes was technically dazzling, as expected, while never quite tugging the heart-strings.

By contrast, Jackson, leader of the CBSO, had the audience in the palm of his hand.

It concluded a triumphant evening for the orchestra under livewire Japanese conductor Kazuki Yamada.

John McLaren

Festival push

Push, Birmingham Hippodrome
ACCLAIMED French ballerina Sylvie Guillem's first performance at Birmingham Hippodrome was a highlight of this year's international dance festival.

The elegant 48-year-old ex-gymnast, brings her grace and vitality to contemporary dance, showcasing her skills in two solo shows.

Dancer and choreographer Russell Maliphant impressed in his own solo and both dancers combined for the award-winning Push.

Grand audience loves all that razzle dazzle

Chicago, Wolverhampton Grand
THIS was razzle dazzle on a Grand scale and the audience loved it.

After the cast left the stage the packed theatre carried on clapping along as the band played its sassy tunes. This musical tells of murder and corruption and it certainly would be a crime to miss it.

If you are fan of the TV soaps you will feel quite at home. Look through the cast list and you will recognise quite a few names.

Set in the roaring 1920s, it features nightclub singer Roxie Hart (Ali Bastian: Hollyoaks, The Bill) who shoots her lover and along with Cell Block rival, double-murderess Velma Kelly (Tupele Dorgu: Coronation Street), they fight to keep from death row with the help of prison matron, Mama Morton (played that night by Genevieve Nicole, understudy for Bernie Nolan) and smooth-talking lawyer, Billy Flynn (Stefan Booth: EastEnders).

This just goes to prove that these 'soap' performers are not short on talent both in the singing and dancing departments, in fact some of the dance routines left the audience feeling breathless. Chicago is at the Grand until Saturday (May 19).

Sue Attwater

Former Hollyoaks and The Bill star Ali Bastian who is starring in Chicago at the Grand Theatre

Comedian at 'home'

Tom Stade, Wulfrun Hall
IT'S not often you come away from a comedy gig thinking about a woman you've never met. But I'd wager most of the audience who laughed until it hurt at Tom Stade's show would have been thinking about the Canadian's long-suffering wife as they left.

Stade, who lived in Wolverhampton for three years, continuously tells us that he has been with his long-suffering wife for 16 years and his dreams have been duly compromised.

With his husky Canadian drawl and witty put-downs, Stade genuinely seemed to enjoy being back in the city he once called home.

His requested Bilston meat market anecdote got the biggest laughs of the night.

Tim Spiers

The essence of Ireland

Essence of Ireland
Wolverhampton Grand
ESSENCE of Ireland may not have the scale of its bigger brother River Dance but this potted history of Ireland told through song, music and dance doesn't lack enthusiasm or energy.

Immigration, separation and Ireland were linked through love letters narrated through the storytelling, singing and playing of frontman Ged Graham.

Superb dance routines were led by Ross Logan and Lianne Stubbs backed by an athletic troupe. Favourites included Tell Me Ma, Wild Rover and Danny Boy.

Danny Farragher

Easy listening

Michael Kiwanuka, Wulfrun Hall
AS A new kid on the block, singer-songwriter Michael Kiwanuka looks as at ease on stage as any veteran of the folk-acoustic circuit.

His smooth soulful voice, easy manner and versatile use of music styles gives him the look of someone who has been doing this most of his life.

Kiwanuka is an excellent musician with a chameleon voice. He is at his best singing with just his acoustic guitar, such as Home Again.

BEDTIME stories for children and a guided family walk form part of a celebration involving the Museum of Cannock Chase. The Valley Road, Hednesford, attraction is joining the national Museums At Night event tomorrow (Friday).

The museum will be open for free until 7pm with pre-booked family activities added for a small charge.

Storytime sessions for under-7s take place in the toys gallery with tickets at £1.50, including milk and cookies. Time slots are available at 5pm, 5.45pm or 6.30pm.

A guided trek on Hednesford Hills is planned at 5pm and 6.15pm followed by a complimentary hot beverage. Tickets are £3 per adult and £2 for under-16s. Call 01543 877666 or visit www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/museum

Award winning illusionists Craig Petty, of Cheslyn Hall and husband and wife Russell and Anna Leeds

ILLUSIONISTS are conjuring up a name for themselves after winning a top talent contest. Four-strong group Slightly Unusual, which features Craig Petty of Cheslyn Hay, have won Brit Idol.

They have also made it through to the finals of Britain Does Variety. Craig is joined by husband and wife team Russell and Anna Leeds, of Bloxwich and Tiffany Leeds, of Pelsall. They have been performing for around a year.

OFF BY HEART: SHAKESPEARE

BBC2, 9pm
Following on from the 2009 poetry recital contest Off by Heart comes this national project aimed at getting schoolchildren engaged with the words of the Bard. The documentary follows the regional heats and workshops as the organisers, working with the Shakespeare Schools Festival, test the young competitors' memory, performance and engagement with the language as they perform soliloquies from Romeo and Juliet, Henry V and Hamlet. The nine best will take part in the final in Stratford-upon-Avon, hosted by Jeremy Paxman, as part of the World Shakespeare Festival.

8 Reasons to Choose Chase Independent

When choosing the right agent to sell your biggest asset, these are the 8 things you should be looking for:

- 1 An office presence on the high street where prospective clients can comfortably speak to an advisor about the property.
- 2 Advertising in the local press and rightmove (the largest property website in the UK).
- 3 Adequate staffing to be able to answer telephone enquiries throughout the working week. No-one likes an automated answer phone.
- 4 Accompanied viewing and be able to show clients round at short notice.

Big Cat looks to stay ahead of the field

EXECUTIVE express is a phrase often used to describe a fast, luxury saloon used to waft businessmen, celebrities and royalty from meeting to meeting.

Jaguar has always been there with the top of the range German marques, but its latest version of the multi-award winning XJ saloon is out to beat the best in this exclusive class.

The ultimate XJ has a top speed of 174mph and a 0 to 60mph sprint time of a fraction over four and a half seconds. And it does it in style without any sacrifice in terms of comfort or luxury for its inevitably well-heeled owners.

The fastest Jaguar saloon in history comes in at a cool £94,000, but for that you get a car which is distinctively styled, standing apart from its stablemates, and can match or better the likes of the BMW 740, the Mercedes-Benz S-Class and the Bentley Continental. All, by the way, which have an extra four cylinders and greater cubic capacity than the Midlands-built machine – and they use more fuel, too.

The Jag's power plant is the same 5.0-litre V8 with 510bhp as the company's quickest two-seater, the XKR-S, thanks to the extra boost of a supercharger.

Jaguar's secret is the XJ's lightweight aluminium construction, which is not only the key to its rapid acceleration but also its sports car-like agility and braking. In conditions wet enough to make me nervous on the motorway trip to Jaguar's Warwickshire test track, the XJ performed superbly – reaching 168mph on the straight and braking so rapidly I almost slide forward under the seat belt.

I was in the executive armchairs in the rear, with a professional test driver in front. From this perspective the car is very little different in terms of quiet, comfortable progress until the driver pressed the "sport" button gearbox, and the "dynamic" button which stiffens up the suspension.

The push-you-back-in-the-seat acceleration is impressive, and even after the 60mph mark comes up in 4.7 seconds there is little let up, the digits continuing to climb rapidly until well past 140mph.

Access to the test track's straight comes via a 180-degree right hander, taken at about 70mph. While I could do little to prevent the building g-forces from pushing my upper body to one side, the car clung to its line as if it was on rails, with no hint of under or oversteer.

It was equally stable under what equated to emergency braking at the end of the straight.

The ultimate XJ varies little from the standard luxury saloon, but visible differences include a small "lip" spoiler at the rear, an aerodynamic splitter at the front and new, 20-in alloys wheels. Behind them are the larger brake discs, with exclusive red callipers.

This is the "sport" pack available as an option on other XJ models. Only the supercharged 5.0-litre car comes with the option of the "speed" pack, which essentially means Jaguar has tweaked the standard electronic speed limiter (set at 153mph on other versions) and added new soft grain leather sports seats and upgraded interior trim.

The XJ "speed" also has a distinctive black mesh grille and some of its instruments had to be recalibrated.

It's a heady mixture: a car which more than holds its own in the world of sophisticated, luxury saloons yet outperforms many rivals classed as sports cars.

CHRONICLE MOTORING Powered by

The new TomTom speed camera app for iPhone, an aid to improving road safety

TomTom app for fixed and mobile speed camera alerts

TomTom has released the TomTom speed camera app for iPhone, giving drivers access to fixed and mobile speed camera alerts.

Powered by the largest European driving community with 1.6 million drivers in 15 countries, the app improves safety by keeping users informed about speed limits during their journey. Consequently, it helps users to avoid costly speeding fines and, in some countries, points on their driving licence.

The TomTom speed camera app offers access to TomTom's premium speed camera service in a standalone app. The app has a new dedicated user interface that is easy to use. It informs drivers of their speed, the speed limit, the type of camera ahead and the remaining distance to reach it. A colour-coded warning system quickly and effectively alerts users if they need to slow down.

"Our speed camera service can be of real benefit, helping people to stay focused as they know where the next camera will be," says Gerry Hinds, vice-president mobile at TomTom.

"We all know that confident driving is safer driving. And that's why we're so pleased that we can now offer this accessible service to a much larger segment of the driving community."

The app includes real-time customer reports from drivers that share newly added or removed cameras with each other. It gives drivers 95 per cent coverage of fixed camera locations and real-time updates for mobile speed cameras. In addition, the app offers average speed check support. This helps drivers stay below the limit within average speed check zones.

The new Audi TT RS Plus. Prices range from £48,945 to £52,265 for the roadster with S tronic gearbox

TT RS Plus will deliver even more power for UK market

A MORE powerful Audi TT RS has been confirmed for the UK market.

Called the TT RS Plus, its greater muscle is complemented by an electronically-raised top speed limit.

It has already been seen at motor shows, but until now it wasn't known whether it would come to the UK.

For a £3,085 price premium over the existing TT RS, the Plus also features larger 19in alloy wheels in a unique design, a different grille and carbon fibre-reinforced polymer (CFRP) door mirror housings.

Black, oval exhaust tailpipe trims show that the Plus is fitted as standard with a sports exhaust system.

Power has been raised by 20bhp, from 335bhp to 355bhp. Torque is up from 332 to 343lb/ft, and with the higher numbers comes a reduced 0-62mph sprint of 4.1 seconds with the optional S tronic dual-clutch gearbox.

The manual version takes 4.3 seconds. Top speed is no longer limited to 155mph, again to differentiate the Plus from the standard TT RS. The new figure, 174mph, is the equivalent of 280kph.

The range will be priced from £48,945 on the road for the manual coupe, rising to £52,265 for the roadster with the S tronic gearbox.

Marque continues to drive ahead on sales

KIA'S April performance couldn't quite match the record rainfall the country endured but the brand continued its remarkable 2012 performance delivering 5,120 new vehicles to customers during the month.

Although that figure was down by just over 100 units compared to the company's record April at the height of scrapage in 2010, the market share in April rose to 3.6 per cent. Total sales so far in 2012 reached 22,331, up from 18,311 in 2011.

And importantly for Kia's enormous investment in its Slovakian production facility, European-sourced vehicles in the year so far reached a new record proportion of 48.6 per cent of all Kia's sold in the UK.

This performance is an interesting facet to Kia's growth in the UK. Since the first cee'd models rolled out of the Zilina factory for delivery to the UK in 2007, the importance of EU-sourced vehicles has steadily grown.

In that first year of 2007 European vehicles represented almost 23 per cent of Kia's sales in the UK. By the end of last year that proportion had risen to slightly over 46 per cent. Already this year European-built vehicles represent 48.6 per cent of Kia sales in the UK – and in April itself the proportion was even higher at 53.7 per cent.

Michael Cole, managing director of Kia Motors (UK) Limited said: "Although the UK economy is not yet out of the woods, there are signs that growth may come back slowly, but steadily. Retail sales are holding up strongly and business sales are also showing improvement.

"For Kia, our European-built product is continuing to prove remarkably successful with existing cee'd, Venga and Sportage all playing their parts."

CARS BOUGHT FOR CASH

True icon of British motoring

By David Banner

IT'S NOT every day that you can get up close and personal with the world's oldest Range Rover, a pre-production Prototype 100/6, named for its 100in wheelbase and order of build, that represents the genesis of an icon spanning decades.

Having had little but a mid-1990s tidy-up since crossing the Sahara Desert twice 40 years ago, it's looking and feeling a little tired these days, but it was still seen for sale at the start of the year for just under £78,000. You can get a new one for less than that.

Some of the special guests invited to an event by Land Rover had history with the car, such as Mike Foster who hadn't seen 100/6 since he said goodbye to it in 1969.

Foster was Sahara Desert operations manager for adventure expedition company Minitrek Expeditions, and is a veteran of 40 Sahara missions having led 36 of them himself.

Back in 1969 he was tasked with a hush-hush assignment by British Leyland and Rover to desert-test two of its newest (and apparently top secret) vehicles, accompanied by a team from Rover itself.

It was disguised with the name "VELAR" to try to throw journalists off the scent of what it was really going to be, but nonetheless the Japanese were there and watching when Prototype 100/6 and its slightly older brother Prototype 100/5 arrived in North Africa.

Number 100/5 was later deliberately destroyed as part of crash-testing at Rover's facilities in the Midlands, leaving this one as the oldest survivor.

Foster told me more about the prototypes' early days. "The two Range Rovers were flown from Southend to Algiers where the planes refuelled and then down to El Golea; down into the Sahara Desert in Algeria," he begins.

"We set off in secrecy and bombed down into Tamanrasset and the central Sahara, and then down into Niger; a 3,500-mile expedition which gave them a really good desert testing." Naturally, we're talking about the late 1960s and a British Leyland company so wasn't all smooth sailing.

Snags

"A few snags occurred," says Foster, "but not many. When we went over large bumps the rear hatchback would fly open. Nothing major."

"The first real problem was when we were about halfway around the 3,500-mile expedition."

"This red one here was in softish sand and our driver, the head of the Rover team, pulled away in two-wheel-drive and the rear axle support plate came half adrift."

"We were about 100 miles into the desert with about 300 to go until our next stopover," he adds.

"There was a Touareg guide with me who knew a smooth route ahead and we decided to go on."

"When we got to Dirkou there happened to be a French officer on secondment to the Niger army who was a welder."

"He welded both Range Rovers' rear axle support plates—he just took the axles off and welded them. That was probably the most noticeable problem we encountered," says Foster.

Prototype 100/6 is an almost living reminder of a time when adventure was real adventure. Long before satnav, GPS technology or satellite phones, this humble, untested red box made it across the Sahara and back.

The fact that the production Range Rover's basic shape stayed the same until 1995, within living memory for most of us, means that the history attached to 100/6 feels much more tangible than that of, say, a perfectly preserved Ford Model T. It's a special reminder that Britain—although it's sometimes held together with impromptu welding and lots of gaffer tape—has always punched above its weight in the world.

If the ultimately rubbish British Leyland-owned Rover could build Prototype 100/6, I'm not surprised at all that today's slick, efficient Land Rover is building such all-conquering off-roaders. It's one British motoring institution

Citroën's DS4 range returns excellent economy and is selling well in the business sector

Citroën's stylish showstopper ticks all the right boxes

It's a bit of looker, is friendly to the wallet and is selling well worldwide.

Just two years after its launch, the three-model Citroën DS line – consisting of DS3, DS4 and DS5 – has already sold more than 200,000 examples worldwide, with 25,000 sales in the UK alone – many of them in the business sector where the stylish look sets it apart from many fleet cars.

The neatly sculpted lines and curves of the DS4 that give a five door car a coupe look, are a good example.

It's radical looks may not suit everyone, but it is certainly an alternative to the usual reproaches.

But if you are driving a car for business it is not just about the looks and running costs are equally important. And the chic saloon again hits the target with a range of five Euro 5 compliant engines. These include two diesels – HDi 110 and HDi 160 – and three petrol units that were co-developed with BMW – VTI 120, THP 155 and a new THP 200 in the test model.

One of the stars of the show must be the 1.6 litre THP 200 that all offer good economy and low CO2 emissions – and its not even a diesel. Not only is it very rapid – the 0-62mph takes just 8.5 seconds it also returns excellent economy with a claimed 44.1mpg and CO2 emissions of just 149g/km, which means it attracts a benefit in kind taxation rate of 19 per cent for business users.

It is a real challenger to the diesels, particularly with the price gap between petrol and diesel growing ever wider.

It is smooth and refined with great pulling power, particularly when overtaking on the motorway.

The good performance is matched with agile and sporty handling, but still giving the occupants a comfortable ride.

The exterior features a large panoramic windscreen, eye-catching light arrays, chrome-finished waistline and dark tinted windows, while the interior has modern, styling and practicality.

It is designed to look like a coupé and does look like a three door, with the rear door handles cleverly concealed next to the rear window frames.

The cabin a classy and comfortable place to be with five full-sized seats, plenty of head and legroom, and a futuristic looking array of dials and controls. A neat touch allows the colour of the dials and the instrument cluster can also be changed to suit the mood.

Despite coupe looks, it still has five-door hatchback practicality with a 359 litre boot that increases to 385 litres when using the under floor storage.

Stability

The French firms says that with their 'Creative Technologie', the interior is home to a range of clever storage space, drink holders and hidden compartments.

There are fewer safer cars on the road and the DS4 has been awarded a maximum five-star Euro NCAP thanks to stability programme with traction Control, ABS, with EBD and EBA, six airbags and two Isofix mountings on the rear seats while other safety enhancing technology available includes programmable cruise control with speed limiter and Citroën's new blind-spot monitoring system.

Prices start at £18,150 for the VTI 120 DSign.

Vans add verve to service fleet

Thompson Group vans supplied by Greenhouse

GREENHOUSE Cars and Commercials has helped drive a successful partnership forward with security, fire and communications specialists, the Thompson Group.

Greenhouse Van Centre in Willenhall has supplied four brand new Vauxhall Vivaro Sportive vans to expand the Thompson Group's existing fleet of 60 service vans, enabling their team of specialist engineers to visit clients premises across the UK and install and maintain their bespoke protection and communication systems.

The Thompson Group has an enviable track record of creating systems to meet the most complex and demanding fire and security needs for every client. With more than 90 engineers supporting clients all over the country, the company demands vans that are reliable, easy to maintain, and cost effective to run; while also upholding its brand values and corporate image to the highest levels.

Scott Thompson, managing director of The Thompson Group said: "When it came to sourcing four additional large vans for our fleet, the Vauxhall Vivaro Sportive quickly stood out as the front runner."

Flexing their 'muscles' at auction of US cars from the decades

BCA HAS a new international sales event in partnership with the DARCARS Automotive Group of the USA with the launch of a monthly sale of American classic "muscle" cars at BCA Nottingham.

The DARCARS group is scouring the US to secure the most iconic and desirable examples of Americana "muscle" cars from the Fifties, Sixties and Seventies which BCA will sell by live online auction to a worldwide audience of buyers.

Eight cars feature in the initial sale which takes place as part of the sports, prestige and executive auction at BCA Nottingham on Thursday, June 21, with viewing from 9am and the vehicles offered from midday. All the cars in the programme have been fully restored and are presented to the highest standards with UK registration and 12 months MoT. All vehicles in the programme are supplied with comprehensive documentation including, where available, details of restoration work undertaken.

Further sales of 16 additional cars are scheduled for July 19 and 24 cars for August 16 and at least 24 cars monthly at each auction in Nottingham thereafter. The initial line-up includes three Chevrolet Corvettes, two Pontiac GTOs, one Chevrolet Camaro, one Pontiac Firebird and a very rare Plymouth GTX, with all models dating from 1963 to 1970.

Registration

DARCARS group spokesman Robert Ryan said: "These sales will offer a rare opportunity for collectors and enthusiasts to purchase from a selection of beautifully restored classic American muscle cars at auction. These cars have been hand-picked as some of the best available to the marketplace and come with comprehensive history packages, a 12-month MoT and UK registration."

BCA's spokesman Tim Naylor added "This is an exciting sales programme that will attract interest not just from UK buyers but much further afield. We are co-ordinating with BCA's European operations to ensure these cars have the widest possible audience of buyers via the live online sales channel."

Interior

The opening sale includes a selection of very desirable Americana. The 1963 Chevrolet Corvette C2 327/340HP Roadster in white with black interior is complete with hardtop. It has covered just 46,000 miles from new and had a full frame off restoration completed just 480 miles ago.

Dating from 1970, the Pontiac GTO Ram Air III Coupe is a rare car, being one of just 3,054 built. In original condition with matching numbers on the drivetrain, it has benefited from a full frame-on restoration, new interior and paint job completed just 1,000 miles ago.

Restored

The 1969 Plymouth GTX 440 Coupe 440ci/375hp is another rare car and, apart from the replacement engine block installed in the 1970s, is in very original condition with all other components bearing matching numbers. Finished in Platinum Silver with dark grey stripes, a black vinyl roof and black leather interior it has been comprehensively restored in recent years.

The 1967 Chevrolet Camaro RS/SS Coupe looks stunning in Bolero Red with black interior and sitting on rally wheels with red line tyres. It shows a recorded 22,000 miles and is in concourse condition following a full restoration completed 1,200 miles ago.

It is supplied with a Camaro hi-performance including MacNeish Certificate of Authenticity, the original owner's manual and as a spare, the original M13 3 Speed Transmission.

A true US motoring icon, the 1967 Pontiac GTO Convertible 400/335hp Automatic has just two owners from new, with the original female owner retaining the car until 1989. Finished in Signet Gold with Parchment interior and white power roof, a full restoration was completed just 100 miles ago.

Warning on weight as Ryan tires out

GREAT WYRLEY ABC boxer Ryan Mansell was on the late show at Bar Sports, Cannock.

He took on Walsall Wood ABC's Shaun Cheadle as the final bout of the bill, the action starting at 11.45pm, and tired in the final round to drop the decision.

Both super-heavyweights were making their debut with Cheadle, an imposing 6ft 5in, towering over Mansell – described by his coach Pete Hickenbottom as “a light-heavyweight in a super-heavyweight's body”.

Cheadle started off holding the centre of the ring, pumping the jab, as Mansell looked to roll underneath and counter.

Cheadle took the first round, but Mansell started brightly in the second, punching in clusters.

But Mansell tired in the last round, and was hampered by a bad nose bleed as Cheadle took a well-deserved unanimous points decision.

Hickenbottom added: “Ryan is only 19 years of age, and performed very well.”

“But his ideal weight is around 83kg and until he gets his diet under control and makes the effort to get down to that weight, then I won't allow him to box for the club. He's going to try to lose some weight over the summer.”

Qualifying under way for bowlers

QUALIFIERS are under way for the £600 Jennings-bet Frank Turner Memorial over-60s bowls competition at Chads Moor Progressive WMC.

The first bowlers have now gone through to the Saturday, June 30 finals.

The tournament honours Turner, who played at Chads Moor and the Staffordshire county team.

Results, Round one: P Darby (Wolverhampton) 1 S Ballard (Vardley) 11, L Harris (Nuneaton) 19 G Davies (Glascotters) 21, M Brown (Dudley Dell) 11 C Pittaway (Windmill) 21, J Smith (Burntwood) 6 D Lee (Nuneaton) 21, T Evans (M&B Cheslyn Hay) 21 L Haylor (Greville Arms) 18, T Wheelson (Rugeley) 18 M Hodgkinson (Victoria Park) 21, P Guest (Bridgton) 14 S Harris (Nuneaton) 21, D Clarke (Noseley) 21 P May (Derby) 8.

Round two: S Ballard 21 G Davies 19, C Pittaway 21 D Lee 4, M Hodgkinson 21 T Evans 14, S Harris 21 D Clarke 19.

Round three: C Pittaway 21 S Ballard 16, S Harris 21 M Hodgkinson 5.

Rugby honour secured

Burntwood RUFC

McGann worked with Staffordshire rugby development officer Tom Bartram.

According to the RFU Rugby Development Department, the accreditation scheme is about “strengthening clubs and growing the game in the communities around them”.

The certificate and plaque were handed over to club president Bob Osbourne at the county's Value the Volunteer awards dinner last week by Staffordshire RU president Bill Leason. Also there were Carole Thelwall-Jones, the RFU's volunteer manager, and Steve Peters, regional rugby manager for Midlands West.

Burntwood's valued volunteer at the awards evening was under-17s coach Steve Thompson. He created the squad from scratch at under-13 level. While with them several players gained county honours, three became members of the Leicester Tigers elite players development group and one, Ryan Mason, represented England at under-16 level.

Aussie rules as Sean's 78 not out takes game

Cannock (24pts) 216-3, Fordhouses (3pts) 199.

Cannock won by 17 runs

AUSTRALIAN Sean Collings was the star as Cannock firsts beat Fordhouses by 17 runs.

Collings hit 78 not out, with Adam Benton (54) providing support and John Cooke hitting an unbeaten 39 as Cannock scored 216-3 despite losing opener Richard Hewitt for a duck. Collings then took 4-37 as Fordhouses fell for 199.

Cannock had their opponents in all manner of difficulty at 52-5, but Russell Thompson (55) and Pirmjeet Kalair (48) put on 101 for the sixth wicket.

Fordhouses (4pts) 136.

Cannock (20pts) 140-8.

Cannock won by two wickets

Matt Robinson returned stunning figures of 5.4-4-6-5 as Cannock seconds snatched victory over Fordhouses.

Dan Campbell took 2-29 as Fordhouses were dismissed for 136.

Cannock were coasting with decent contributions from their top four, notably 39 from Sam Evans. But a flurry of late wickets as Phil Brown claimed 5-17 changed the game's complexion and they were grateful to Phillip Highway (five not out) and Dan Campbell (nine not out) for steering them home.

Cannock and Rugeley U11 262-4 (net 242), Cannock U11 306-5 (net 281). Cannock won by 39 runs

The visitors won the toss and opted to bat. Cannock bowled accurately, restricting them to 262-4, giving a net score of 242.

Harry Wilkes and Alfie Mallen took a wicket apiece.

Cannock amassed a total of 306-5 for a net total of 281. Jamie Hill top-scored with 17 while Matty Hill and Cameron Horn also made double figures.

Shrewsbury U15 120, Cannock Sunday Colts 122-1. Cannock won by nine wickets

Cannock Colts got their east Shropshire league season up and running with an excellent all-round performance at Shrewsbury.

Shrewsbury batted first. Good knocks from Briarley (22), Fletcher (24) and Thomas (46) helped Shrewsbury post a competitive total of 120 from their 40 overs on a difficult surface. Alex Rowe (4-21) and Ravan Chahal (3-11) were the pick of the Cannock attack.

Cannock openers Dan Wood and Ryan Peach looked like taking the visitors to a 10-wicket win.

But with the scores level, Peach was lbw for 35. Victory was secured in the following over with Wood finishing on 68 not out.

Skating contest cuts plenty of ice with top girls

The skaters, who competed in Dumfries, from left, Laura Walters, Abi Lindley, Paige Stanyard and Leah Hosker

FOUR skaters from Cannock International Ice Skating Club brought home 14 medals between them

The four competed at Dumfries in the inaugural Impaired Skating Contest. Competitors must have a physical or mental disability.

Coach Tash Fennell Owen said: “We came back with 14 medals, which from four girls is quite an amazing thing to do. It was one of the first such competitions to be held in the UK. We were like guinea pigs! There was a little boy who was blind and he competed as well, which was inspirational. It made our skaters want to skate even more.”

The four Cannock competitors all skate at least five times a week. They are: Paige Stanyard, aged 11, from Great Wyrley who has retracted ear drums and has had a mastoidectomy – surgery to remove infected bone; Laura Walters, 13, from

Wednesfield, who has hearing and sight difficulties; Stafford 10-year-old

Abigail Lindley, who has hemiplegia – a mild form of cerebral palsy and Leah Hosker, aged 16, from Sutton Coldfield whose disability is not disclosed.

Results, Compulsory elements, level four: 2 Abi Lindley, Level six: 1 Leah Hosker, 2 Paige Stanyard, 3 Laura Walters.

Hard fight maintains record for Penkridge

Wednesbury 168-5, Penkridge 171-6. Penkridge won by four wickets

PENKRIDGE seconds maintained their 100 per cent winning start to a hard-fought four-wicket victory at Wednesbury.

The home team batted first and openers Tahir Mohamed (63) and Daniel Slater (47) delivered an opening stand of 104. After the first dismissal the visitors took a stranglehold on the game with tight bowling.

Ian Brown, returning figures of 4-40, was the chief tormentor.

Set a target of 169 to win, Penkridge chipped away with solid displays from Wasem Khan (31) and Mohammed Ishfaq (62).

Ahead of the run rate, thanks to a quickfire 21 from Andy Lawson, the visitors finally reached their target with five overs to spare.

Penkridge 158, Coseley 93.

Penkridge won by 65 runs

Penkridge thirds got their season up and running with an excellent victory

Asked to bat, Penkridge made steady progress with Steve Jones (37) and Zahoor Iqbal (41) the main contributors to their 158.

In reply Coseley lost wickets at regular intervals and were dismissed for 93 as Nadeem Tariq claimed 4-27.

Fordhouses 78, Penkridge 72.

Fordhouses won by six runs

The fourths failed narrowly in their bid to make it a clean sweep for the club. They went down by just six runs in a low-scoring affair against Fordhouses.

After winning the toss and deciding to bowl, Penkridge soon had Fordhouses in trouble with leg spinner Duncan Horobin bamboozling the opposition.

He finished with 4-8 from his eight overs as Fordhouses were all out for 78.

However, in reply Penkridge lost wickets regularly with only Tom Morris (35) showing any form of resistance. They were finally bowled out an agonising six runs short of their target.

Drought to flood over month is misery for fishermen

FOLLOWING the wettest April in years and no sign of the rain abating in May, it's little surprise that we anglers are frustrated, writes Vernon Leadbetter.

From drought to flood in the space of a month – good old Britain!

Kingswood Lake has been virtually unfishable due to the big increase in water height.

But over at Leacroft Pool, Martin Leadbeater popped down for an afternoon session and caught a 21lb 8oz mirror carp as well as a hard-fighting 15lb common carp.

Fishing on other Blackfords venues has been reasonable, given the changeable weather conditions.

At Fisherwick Lakes, the trout lake has averaged 3.8 fish per rod with best catch of the week going to Andy Pountney.

The Great Barr angler had six fish for 14lb on black buzzer.

Best rainbow of the week, weighing 5lb, went to M Forrest from Tamworth on an orange lure.

Damselfish

A few nice brown trout are also being caught to 3lb 8oz.

Best flies recently have been bloodworm, damselfish with hawthorn and sedge working when fish are hunting the surface layers.

Across on the carp pool, the biggest fish was caught by Scott Stacey at 24lb 8oz while Dave Taylor had a 24lb 4oz mirror carp.

Dan Moulton, from Tamworth, landed a 24lb 2oz common carp as part of a three-fish catch.

The Sunday open match was won by Burton angler Rob Harper with 46lb 8oz of carp from the new match lake.

Second was Nick Lockwood, from Walmley, with 29lb and third Jim Powell of Wednesbury with 23lb.

Let us know how your local fishery is fishing or get them to contact us if they would like a mention.

Or if you have any interesting catches to report, please contact Vernon at Archline Angling on 01543 426158.

Tournament marks 25th anniversary

Cannock Town Mini-Soccer
CANNOCK TOWN FC, celebrating their 25th anniversary, staged their first ever mini-soccer tournament.

Cannock ran competitions for under-seven, under-eight, under-nine and under-10 teams.

The under-nine winners were Colron Rangers, while Stafford Soccer School emerged triumphant in the under-10s.

Teams playing in the tournament included: Stafford Town Panthers, Cannock Town Juniors, Berkswich, Penkridge Juniors, Lea Hall, Eccleshall Eagles,

Junior football

Stafford Rangers, Milford Sharks, Chase Athletic, AFC Cannock and Cannock Town Boys.

Chase Athletic
Double winners last season, Chase Athletic under-13s Juniors emulated that feat – but saw hopes of a treble dashed on penalties.

With three games to play in a week, Chase first clinched their second successive Lichfield League Division One title. Joe Hartshorne was the hat-trick hero in a 7-2 win over Stafford Rangers with Kai Lycett, Kieran Lomas and Connor Haddaway also on target.

Fast-forward three days and runners-up Cresswell dented Chase's treble chance in the League Cup final at Beacon Park. Hartshorne (2) and Josh Davies pulled Chase back into contention after Cresswell had led 3-0, but their opponents triumphed 4-2 on spot-kicks.

Chase recovered and just two days later gained revenge in the Shield.

Goals from Davies and Connor Haddaway settled the outcome, again at Beacon Park, as Chase won for the second year.

St Joseph's Hednesford 3 Chadsmoor 0

St Joseph's won the Cannock and Rugeley District Schools league title for the second year, with a hard-fought win over a spirited Chadsmoor team.

In blustery conditions, the first half was an even encounter finishing 0-0.

St Joseph's upped the tempo in the second half and despite some excellent saves by the Chadsmoor goalkeeper, goals from Sam Walker, Isaac Chave and a tremendous free-kick from distance by Taylor Baylis ensured the win.

Cannock Chase District Y5/6 girls football tournament

St Joseph's Girls won their first district tournament when they shared the trophy with St Peter's. After wins over Norton Canes and Moorhill and a draw with Springhill, they drew 0-0 in the semi-final with Littleton Green.

Keeper Alice Antoskiewicz saved all three penalties in the shoot-out to put her side into the final against St Peter's, which ended 0-0 with the trophy shared. St Joseph's scorers in the tournament were Elle Loundes (2) and Joanna Antoskiewicz.

Run tally tightens pressure on visitors

Cannock and Rugeley 301-7, Bloxwich 200-7. Draw

ADAM LAWLEY'S unbeaten 94 pushed Cannock and Rugeley first to a huge score after being put in to bat.

But Bloxwich's Aaron Alcock saw his side to safety by making 99 not out.

But Lawley's big innings, supported by Martin Weston's 60 and 55 from Ali Fawcett, put the pressure on the visitors.

Bloxwich began shakily and were 14-2 after eight overs with both openers back in the pavilion.

However, Alcock took over and John Darby made 51 to stave off defeat.

Cannock and Rugeley 150, Bloxwich 127-9. Draw

Cannock and Rugeley second continued their fine start to the season with a winning draw at Bloxwich.

A steady middle-order batting effort on a slow pitch helped the visitors to 150.

Luke Farley (47), Ian Hawkins (29) and Jock Caan (22) all contributed despite Jamie Broadhurst's 4-48 for Bloxwich.

Cannock and Rugeley took wickets regularly with only Simon Lunn (29), Chris Beech (36) and Andy Gibson (15 not out) making double figures.

Caan followed his good form with the bat by taking 5-35 off his 15 overs while Simon Cooper claimed 2-39 and Shaun Aston 2-23.

Bloxwich lost three wickets on 126 but preserved the losing draw by finishing on 127-9.

Cannock and Rugeley 121, Pelsall 125-8. Pelsall won by two wickets Batting first, Cannock and Rugeley made a great start with Paul Beech (35) and Steve Benton (57) making a near-century stand for the first wicket.

But a lack of experience told further down the order, with Nigel Skye's five the next highest score and five of the home team out for a duck.

The home side were bowled out for 121 with Chris Lancaster taking 7-30 to cut a swathe through the order. Ed Lawley made early inroads into the Pelsall batting, removing both openers for nought.

However, that man Lancaster made 52 to take the visitors to the brink of victory before a flurry of late wickets. Lawley finished with 5-30 while Tom Thelwell took 1-30 and debutant Vicki Parkes 1-20.

Winding Wheel dish up narrow defeat to Lamb

AFC Winding Wheel 3 Lamb & Flag 2
LEAGUE runners-up Winding Wheel just edged out mid-table Lamb & Flag in the Division Four cup final.

Curiously, all five goals of this derby clash were scored in the first half of the match.

Local pride was at stake with the two clubs situated just a mile apart. The Wheel led twice but the Lamb would not give in and on each occasion came back to equalise.

Adam Lyons and Chris Horton put the Wheel in front.

But it was a Nick Hodgkiss penalty which proved decisive in finally putting an end to the Lamb's brave challenge.

Dan Bradbury of Winding Wheel was made the man of the match.

Guest of honour John Wells presented his trophy to the winning side in front of a crowd of 244.

Cannock Chase League

Cannock Charity Cup final
The Littleton 3 Harrisons 0
Division Two champions Littleton completed a fine double triumph by taking the Charity Cup.

They did their best work early on, scoring three times within 25 minutes to stake their claim.

Matty Allport's free-kick put them ahead, followed by a double for Chad Stevens which finished off Harrisons' hopes.

Mrs Moseley and her daughter presented their family trophy, which dates back to 1949, to the winning Littleton side in front of a crowd of 186.

Hawkins snatch the title with last-game victory

Hawkins Sports U10 4

FC Premier U10 1

HAWKINS overhauled title rivals FC Premier in the last game of the season to snatch the title.

They started two points adrift, but took the vital win. Hawkins began brightly and took the lead early on when a good cross by Alex Crib was turned into his own net by a Premier player who drew level with a free-kick into the top corner.

In the second half, Hawkins piled on the pressure and went ahead when Connor Farmer sent Crib clear to finish. Crib got his second soon after.

FC Premier rallied, forcing a double save from George Wilkes until the fourth goal came from Carter Shelley.

Hawkins Sports celebrate with their trophy, secured after they won a last-game title decider

Cannock club plan for next 50 years

CANNOCK badminton club celebrates its golden anniversary looking to find new players to take them into their next 50 years.

Formed in 1962, the club has played in the South Staffordshire leagues since its creation and, in recent years, joined the Stafford and District League.

They have a long-standing competitive history and regularly enter teams in the local leagues across all categories, from mens and ladies to mixed doubles.

Membership covers a huge age group from 20 to 70 and the club are launching a recruitment drive.

They want to attract new players, preferably with league experience or aspirations of reaching that level.

They regard themselves as a 'middle club' who don't attract elite players.

But they have a long and proud tradition of being competitive in the local leagues and believe they offer stimulating badminton in a social atmosphere.

The club play on Tuesday and Thursday nights at Cannock Chase High School, from 7.30pm to 9.30pm.

Those interested in joining can call chairman Dave Roberts on 07858 642 324 or, alternatively, just pop down and see the club in action on either night.

Seven up for the visitors

Wednesday 112 Penkridge won by seven wickets

PENKRIDGE continued their successful start to the season with a comprehensive victory over Wednesday.

Winning the toss and electing to field, Penkridge soon had Wednesday in trouble with both Roger Weston (3-22) and Ross Shelton (2-15) bowling well.

There was no let-up for the Wednesday batsmen as spin was introduced into the attack, with Shafiq Ahmed and Mo Hassan claiming two wickets apiece to dismiss Wednesday for 112.

The Penkridge reply got off to a watchful start, with Tushar Saha conceding just 10 runs off his 17 overs.

However, runs were coming at the other end and a hard-hitting 37 not out from Laeq Chishty and a gritty unbeaten 18 from skipper Paul Szwedzky saw them home with seven wickets to spare.

Premier League star comes back to Keys Park

Swansea's Ashley Williams

HEDNESFORD will welcome back their most famous player on Friday when Premier League star Ashley Williams returns to Keys Park.

The Swansea and Wales international defender, who made 35 appearances in the top-flight this season, is the special guest for the club's end-of-season bash.

Wolverhampton-born Williams will also present the award to the Pitmen's youth team, who have won the Midland Floodlit Youth League Northern Division title.

It was Hednesford who took the 27-year-old in when he was released from Albion aged 16, spending two years with the club from 2001.

The Football League then came calling as

by Craig Birch

Williams moved on to Stockport, beating off competition from Oldham Athletic for his services.

The powerful centre-back won a full Wales call-up and secured a move to Swansea in the same month, March 2008, and his rise has continued.

Williams has now made 146 appearances for the Swans, who defied the odds to finish 11th in the Premier League last season, and won 32 caps for Wales.

Club secretary Terry McMahon said: "The youth team did immensely well to win their league this season."

"They deserve the excitement of being able to meet a Premier League star in the flesh.

"Despite bowing out of the play-offs to Bradford Park Avenue, the first team also deserve the support of the fans on what has been another very successful season."

Tickets are available by contacting the club on 01543 422 870. They are priced at £3 for supporters club members and £4 for non-members. Doors open at 7.30pm.

When the dust has settled on the awards night, Hednesford will be looking for volunteers to help 'clean up' Keys Park.

A date is yet to be confirmed for the main day of work but an announcement will follow from the club.

Bangers head for the hills

HEDNESFORD Hills will host the biggest national banger race of the season on Sunday as they stage the annual two-litre world final.

Over 100 drivers are expected to attend the event and more than 50 of them are set to compete in the day's big race.

The track, situated two miles from Cannock town centre, has been hosting stock car and banger racing for over 40 years.

Its banked asphalt quarter-mile oval is the fastest of its kind in the country and the track features two covered and seated grandstands.

Rickie Beasley rolls into town looking to defend his title successfully after a hard-fought win last year, racing for Team Black.

But Beasley will face some tough competition with big teams and big names in attendance, all looking to take his crown.

They include the Gladiators, their major rivals the Cream Team, Scrapyard Screammers, Midnight Runners and Stinkbricks.

Almost all the field is likely to be Ford Mondeo powered - which are fast, tough and perfect for giving and taking hits.

Support comes from the Ministox, with the oval racing stars of tomorrow clashing bumpers in their armoured-up Minis.

Gates open at 10am with the action getting under way at 1.30pm. Admission is £15 for adults, £12 for concessions and £7 for children.

Family tickets - admitting two adults and up to three children - are £40. Trackside parking is also available for £6 per car on a first come, first served basis.

Spectators should arrive early if they wish to view the racing from their car.

NEW BOSS VOWS TO SHINE AT SCHOLARS

NEW Chasetown boss Craig Harris today vowed to bring the feel good factor back to the Scholars Ground.

The former Scholars captain was named as Chris Brindley's successor this week with the task of rebuilding the club's shattered confidence.

They were relegated from the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League on the final day of last season and Harris, who made 94 appearances for Chasetown between 2004 and 2007, wants to rediscover the Scholars' famous spirit.

He said: "The first thing we have to think about, before winning matches, is getting the atmosphere back and the spirit going again."

"It's exciting and good to be back but I just feel the whole club needs a lift, as everyone seems to be down in the dumps."

"We have to stabilise the club first and then see how we carry on from then."

"We want to play good, attacking football which the fans will enjoy. A football club is supposed to be a nice place to come."

Harris captained the Scholars during their first historic FA Cup run in 2005, where they reached the first round and were only knocked out 4-0 by Oldham after a replay.

He said: "It's a club I've got big feelings for, I love the place and it's a big step up for me but I'm looking forward to the challenge."

"We have to work out what has gone wrong and put it right."

And Harris, who scored three goals for the Scholars, is keen to keep the nucleus of the Chasetown squad, despite relegation, as he plots an immediate return.

The club had eight contracted players last season and there's no word on if they will be offered season-long terms after the drop.

He added: "I would like to keep as many as we can."

"I don't think it will be a big turnaround but we will probably need a couple of additions to the squad."

Chairman John Donnelly hailed Harris' arrival but insisted he should not be compared to legendary boss Charlie Blakemore.

He said: "He knows the club and comes with a good pedigree, football knowledge, ability and potential."

"He is young but Charlie was young when he was appointed. But he's not Charlie, he's 'Chopper'."

"He's got some of the same techniques our supporters are used to."

Televised bill is up next for Egan

Dave Egan gets that winning feeling after success on his professional boxing debut

CANNOCK'S Dave Egan will box on a televised show in just his second fight after a winning start to life as a professional boxer at Walsall Town Hall.

The former Chasetown footballer was on target in his debut outing against Matt Seawright to take a shut out points victory after four rounds at welterweight.

The 29-year-old now moves on to a spot on the undercard of the British cruiser-weight title rematch between Enzo Maccarinelli and Shane McPhillibin at Wolverhampton Civic Hall on June 22.

Egan proved his capabilities as a ticket seller and crowd pleaser, as he was cheered on by a noisy throng of over 180 supporters on Saturday night.

Seawright had come to spoil and frustrate Egan took his time in working out the 61-fight veteran over the course of their cagey affair.

The former Walsall Wood ABC amateur showed flashes of sharp punching along the way, particularly a snapping right hook that found its mark in the first round.

He was also ready and waiting as Seawright came lunging forward in the second session, only to walk straight onto a right hand coming up that scored another eye-catching shot.

Egan himself called the fight "horrible" afterwards, mainly due to the negativity of his opponent, but he got the job done and can go forward as an undefeated fighter.

Back by popular demand Leekes discount card returns...

Following the success of their 'finishing touches' discount card this spring Leekes are delighted to reintroduce this fantastic offer – which is great news for all home improvers!

As Managing Director Emma Leeke revealed "We received a lot of positive feedback from customers regarding our spring offer as the combination of interest free finance and the finishing touches discount card really seems to make home improvement dreams a reality.

With the housing market still relatively stagnant, our customers appear to be focussed on improving - not moving, investing in and freshening up their homes by adding their own style and personality to each room.

And whether it's simply a new clock or cushion - or an entire conservatory or kitchen extension - we can help."

The family-owned department store, known locally as the home experts have been creating beautiful homes for over 100 years and offer an extensive range of kitchens, bathrooms, sofas, beds, accessories and more all under one roof.

And right now, customers can spread the cost with nothing to pay until 2013 plus up to two years interest free credit* and also enjoy up to 20% off* finishing touches including the paint, tiles, cushions, cutlery, lamps and rugs to complete the look. Finance and finishing touches offers are only available until 20th June; minimum spend applies.
